DEDICATION

The 1918 BLOCKHOUSE is proudly dedicated to the auspicious future of the University of Toledo. The hour glass foresees gigantic towers of learning with ideals of education disseminating knowledge to an ever advancing student body.

We are a comparatively young institution but our progress has been rapid and ever striving for higher levels.

This book is also dedicated to the teachers and students who are together building the leadership of tomorrow.

FOREWORD

In these pages of the 1948 BLOCKHOUSE, the staff has tried to give you an overall picture of this year's events. The memories of the dances, Home-coming, Class Bowl Game, Football and Basketball games are probably growing dim as the year draws to a close. Through these pictures and stories we hope to re-etch these pleasant times.

This is your book. May it recall happy memories.

PRESIDENT

Dr. Wilbur Wallace White became president of the University of Toledo May 11 of this year. Coming to us from the graduate school of Western Reserve University, Dr. White has already shown that his varied experience in the field of education has fitted him well for his position here. Easy to talk to, sound in his judgments, efficient in his duties, he exhibits those qualities students like and respect. The student body, along with the faculty, are looking forward to a long and successful administration for Dr. White.

DEANS

RAYMOND L. CARTER, Dean of Administration, is the busiest man in school. Class schedules, commencements, high school visiting teams, and summer registration all come under his supervision. In addition to these duties he is Director of the Junior College, and advisor to Arx, men's honorary. His bearing, a mixture of dignity and geniality, is just the one to make him a popular official in the eyes of the student body. Late in 1946, Dr. Carter was appointed acting president of the University in the stead of Philip C. Nash, who was taken ill at that time: Dr. Carter's versatility and efficiency, so useful in an administrative job, served him well in his new duties. His work ranged all the way from discovering and hiring new instructors to negotiating with the government for new buildings. The excellence of his performance in an exacting job caused everyone to say, "Well done!" when he returned to his old duties in March.

ARVID T. JOHNSON, assistant Dean of Administration is Dr. Carter's good right arm. He is in charge of traffic control, handling all violations and complaints. In addition to this he is in charge of the University grounds and buildings and their condition. Inspection trips are part of his normal duties. During Dr. Carter's term as acting president, Mr. Johnson served as acting Dean of Administration, handling the job with his customary efficiency and aplomb. Mr. Johnson's ability to talk with students easily and understand their attitudes has helped to make him one of our most well liked and trusted officials.

DEANS

ANDREW J. TOWNSEND, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, directs the largest college of the University. Associated with the school since 1930, he is well qualified to serve as a representative college director. His duties during Dr. Nash's illness were greatly increased in scope, but his able handling of them all left nothing to be desired. Dr. Townsend, in addition to advising all the students under his direction, is available for questions and advice all the time. He has the answers.

PAUL W. STANSBURY, Director of Graduate Study, is in charge of the farthest reaching department of the University. In addition to his duties as graduate students advisor, he heads the department of Psychology. Under Dr. Stansbury, the Graduate school has made great strides. The fact that the school has become available to many more students in more widely diverse fields can be attributed directly to Dr. Stansbury. Always ready with a bit of friendly counsel or a spot of good conversation, Dr. Stansbury is an extremely popular and sought after man.

BRENTON W. STEVENSON, Director of Evening Sessions, handles a very important part of our school's program. With enrollment greatly increased since the war, Mr. Stevenson's duties have almost doubled. In addition to his job as Director, he is editor of the University of Toledo Bulletin, official publication of the University. He guides the progress of all the evening students, many of whom are older people attempting to further their education in relation to their work. Mr. Stevenson's wit and humor are always ready and always popular. He is always available for a word or two of good, sound advice.

M. KATHRYN SCHWAB, Dean of Women, is the busiest woman on campus. Her regular duties include welcoming new women students at the University, advising them throughout the year, and being their general confidant. In addition, she is advisor to Pan-Hellenic Council and Peppers, and is in charge of the University Social Calendar.

CLAIR K. SEARLES, Dean of the College of Business Administration, heads the second largest school in the University.

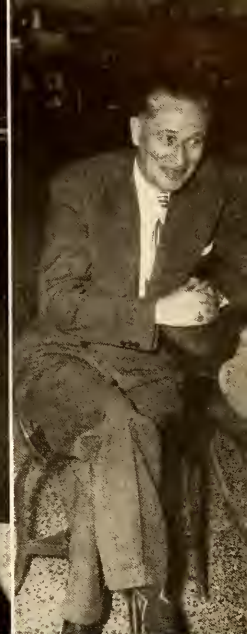

DONALD S. PARKS, Dean of Men, is the most popular man in school. Besides his regular duties as Director of Personnel he is advisor to Inter-Fraternity Council. The one man in school with his finger continually on the pulse of student life, he has established himself as a personality through his ever ready wit, an incessant stream of stories, and his constant availability.

CHARLES W. FORNOFF, Dean of the College of Law, directs one of the finest law schools in this part of the country.

JOHN B. BRANDEBERRY, Dean of the College of Engineering, is in charge of the largest single group of men on campus.

DAVID W. HENRY, Dean of the College of Education, heads a school which sends its graduates all over the country.

CHARLES W. LARWOOD, Dean of the College of Pharmacy, directs the finest professional school in the state.

HOMEcoming

Homecoming celebration was a three-day affair this year. Opening the program was the annual bonfire and roast in honor of the football team and old grads. Hotdogs, heroes, and alumni vied for attention. The next night the Homecoming Dance was held in the Naval Armory. The third day of celebration was filled with activity. First came the Homecoming Float Parade through the streets of downtown Toledo. Zeta Tau Alpha fraternity was awarded the trophy for the best float entered in competition. In the evening, the climax of the three-day celebration was reached when the Rockets met and conquered the Zippers from Akron U. At halftime ceremonies, the Homecoming Queen was presented by the co-chairmen of the whole program, Mary Jane Crothers and Norman Wolfe. Celia Koontz was elected Queen after a spirited campaign in which her backers gathered the necessary votes by means of write-in ballots.

GLASS BOWL

The second annual Glass Bowl game was bigger and better, if possible, than the first. Once again a New England team was chosen to be our guest, the choice being the University of New Hampshire. The day was right for football, the stands were filled, the ceremonies were colorful and the game was good. The glass companies of Toledo played a large part in making the game and the day a great success. A large delegation of fans from the Granite State were present. The Governor of New Hampshire sent a giant red rooster which was given to Ohio's chief of state at the game. Governor Herbert was here to crown the Glass Bowl Queen. Nancy Bothe, candidate of the Newman Club, was chosen Queen by a board of Toledo artists. At halftime, Miss Bothe was brought into the stadium in a helicopter which landed on the playing field.

JUNIOR CLASS

After one of the most energetic post-war election campaigns, Mark Pownall was chosen president of the junior class. Elected to serve with him were Mary Curtas as secretary and Dick Balsmeyer, treasurer. Representing them on Student Council were Karen Youngs and Bill Booth. During the past year, Mary was also secretary and later president of the University Theater in addition to her many other activities. Dick—everyone calls him “Bugs”—was one of the students on campus whose name was chosen to be included in the publication “Who’s Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.”

Highlighting their year’s activities was “Loof Lirpa” the annual prom, which was held April

2 from 9 to 1 in the Toledo Naval Armory at Bay View Park. Jimmy Reemsnyder’s orchestra played for dancing. This affair, which was open to all students, afforded an evening of relaxation and pleasure for all those who attended. Alice Ranzau and Ray Lippmann were co-chairmen of this dance, assisted by Charlie Reynolds. The other committee members who helped make it a success were Jim Foster, Patricia Kennedy, Ray Altenburg, Marjorie Keller, and Jim Murray.

Ranking high scholastically were William A. Ahrendt, Virginia Andrews, Glen Calcamugio, Mary Jane Hausmann, Annis K. Henry, Ellen McKitrick, and Harold W. Tanner.

Opening the University's social program with the Sophomore Prom, this group began one of the most energetic sophomore class calendars for many years. The affair was held October 10 at the Toledo Naval Armory at Bay View Park. Renewing the practice of presenting a class variety show, they combined talents with the freshman class and offered a two-night show in May. This joint effort was the only variety show presented during the year.

The sophomores held a class roast and picnic after the University of Toledo vs. Bowling Green State University baseball game on May 24. This picnic, which was one of the most unique functions the University has witnessed for some time, was an entirely on-campus affair, with dancing in the Student Union.

Serving as officers of the sophomore class were Bob Dixon, president; Patricia Tolford, vice-president; Jane King, secretary; and Ben Keller, treasurer. Don Soncrant and Betty Gerken were men's and women's representatives to Student Council. Bob's name was chosen to be included in the publication "Great Greeks on American Campuses" and Ben served as co-chairman of the World Student Service Fund drive. Jane was president of the University Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Prominent among those who participated in planning these activities were John Rightmyer, Charlotte Young, Marianne Chambers, Ken Herrick, Carol Granthen, Phil Miller, Eldon Williamson, Lorraine Jones, and Jim Arbaugh.

Ranking high scholastically were Leonard Borman, Harold Conklin, Jr., Raymond Crawford, Oran Green, Joe Judis, Howard Mackey, Catherine O'Neill, Irving Schmidt, Martin Siegel, Donald Soncrant, Edward Watkins, and Roger Woodruff.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Although freshman classes have been acclaimed in the past, this year's group has been particularly outstanding with an unusual quality of resiliency necessary to hold their own. They have made the term "green freshman" a misnomer. Leading this live-wire group is Al Leake, president; Phil Neitzel, vice-president; Milly Wilson, secretary; and Don Thurber, treasurer. Don Higley and Katy Crothers represented them on the Student Council.

"Freshman Fantasy" was the theme of the annual freshman dance which was held in the Toledo Naval Armory at Bay View Park, January 27, with Bill Graeser's orchestra furnishing the music. In spite of loud protests to some of their plans the dance was according to some, one of the best, if not the biggest dance of the year. Ruth Hawkins and Dan Reed were co-chairmen with Sue Niles, Joan Kolinski, Peggy Shannon, Bill Blackwell, Jack Weber, and George Stockes on the committee.

The class gained notoriety once more when they set out to stage their variety show. Planning to present a two-night stand they later joined with the sophomore class to present the show May 19 and 20. Allen Adler and Jim Kuhn headed the freshman committee, assisted by Norma Matt and Margie Greene.

Students ranking high scholastically were Marian Glaser, James Goodrich, Mary Louise Hirschy, Joanne Saunders, Phyllis Ann Konop, Alexander Sherman, Lawrence Sullivan and Jacqueline Vellemen.

Greek social groups pledged a total of 334. The nine sororities pledged 118 women while the ten fraternities on campus pledged 216 men.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council is the student government on the University campus. The purpose of Council is to consider all matters affecting the interests of the students and to secure for them greater cooperation with the faculty.

It is the responsibility of Student Council to appoint student members of student-faculty committees and all members of general student committees. Representatives to Council also take part on many of these committees.

Council met twice a week all year. Robert Garrett presided over these meetings and showed great ability in guiding Council through many exacting sessions. Dorothy MacKenzie, as secretary, kept a complete, concise record of each meeting and filed the records for future use. Vernon Chriss handled all of Council's financial matters as part of his duties as treasurer. The Social Chairman for the year was Karen Youngs. She was in charge of all committees appointed by Council to plan school social functions.

The first duty of Council this year was the publication of the Freshman Handbook. This booklet orients incoming students in the ways of the University and guides them through their first year on campus.

Student Council presented its annual Christmas Formal dance at the Armory. Ray Anthony and his orchestra played for the affair. Intermission activities included Arx tapping, traditionally held as part of this dance. All elections on campus are held under the direction of Council. Freshman elections were held during the first month of school, followed closely by Homecoming Queen election. The Glass Bowl Queen election, while not a campaign in which students voted, was handled by Council. Spring elections, biggest of the year, were run off with precision due to the able work of the elections committee, composed of Council members.

Robert Garrett, Student Council President

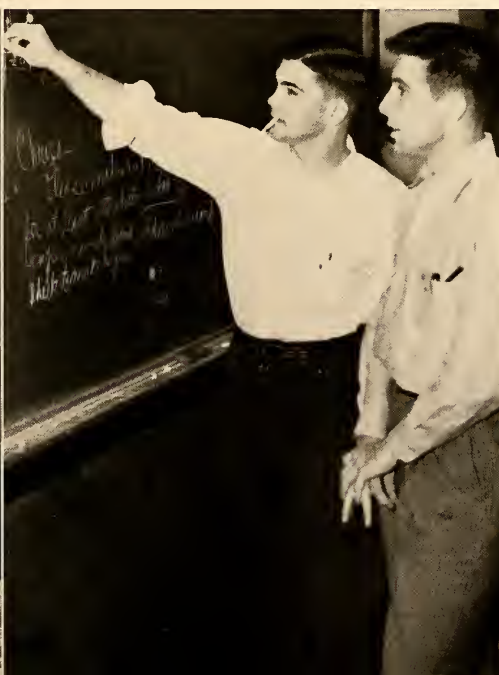

This year, Council inaugurated a new check-system for student elections. All students were required to fill in a voting card at registration time in order to qualify them for voting, thus preventing ineligible students from participating in elections.

A roster system was also instituted by Council this year. Under this arrangement each campus organization is required to place on file in the Student Council office a complete roster of its members plus a copy of its constitution. This furnishes any organization or administrative official a complete check on the activities of any student.

Student Council considered a great deal of business during the year and handled all of it well. Council members, however, hesitate to assume all the credit. They feel that excellent cooperation by the student body did much to add to their success. They hope such cooperation will be continued in future years.

Filled to capacity all day long is the paper strewn, noisy office which surrounds the every-busy Collegian staff trying to meet this weeks deadline. Editor-in-chief, humorous and no punch pulling, Norm Wolfe, sits alone in his spacious cubby hole reading letters, copy, and the COLLEGIAN. He has done an excellent job as editor for the second semester taking over when Betty Smith left school.

Betty started the year off with a paper that upheld the tradition of our "best Ohio college paper". Under her capable leadership, the Collegian was more widely read than ever.

The purpose of the University Theatre is to further an interest in the dramatic arts and to afford the students of the University an opportunity to participate in every phase of dramatic productions.

Full membership in the organization is granted to those students who during one semester complete fifteen hours of work for the Theatre. This work may be in dramatics, back-stage operations, building and painting sets, lighting effects, box office work, make-up or any of the many and varied jobs that are involved in play production.

The organization also sponsors social activities for members and future thespians. Each play is followed by a cast party which is a fitting climax to weeks of hard work.

"Three Men On A Horse" a rollicking comedy depicting what happened to a meek verse-writing gentleman when he exploited his peculiar talent for picking winning race horses.

What complete machinization of human energy would mean to the world was portrayed in "RUR" (Rossum's Universal Robots), the second production of the semester. At the time of this writing "Years Ago", a sweet homespun comedy, first done on Broadway by Florencce Eldridge and Frederick March, is in the midst of production.

A lot of time, energy, effort, and enthusiasm goes into each production and a lot of spirit, sense of cooperation, and job well-done feeling comes out of it—and of course a great big portion of FUN.

Outstanding extracurricular activities plus a one point five average qualify a woman for Peppers, Women's Honorary. Limited to thirteen women, the group contained its maximum membership for only one month this year, before Jane McKendrick graduated and left twelve Peppers behind.

Tapping takes place twice yearly: once in December, when only seniors are tapped, and at the women's song fest when mostly juniors and a few sophomores are tapped.

On March 17, Peppers held its annual Smarty Party in the Student Union, honoring 53 freshmen women having a two point or better average. Lee Chapman and Phyllis Brown were chairmen for the affair, aided by Frana Romp, Margaret Tomlinson and Dorothy MacKenzie.

Also sponsored by Peppers is the annual Women's Song Fest which was held on April 23 this year, in the peristyle of the Art Museum. Seven women's groups competed in the fest. Barbara Schumm and Margaret Tomlinson were co-chairmen, assisted by Karen Youngs, Virginia Cramer and Frana Romp.

In May an alumni tea was held in the Student Union, honoring former Peppers. Joanne Sullivan was in charge, aided by Ruth Gogel, Barbara Schumm, Karen Youngs and Caroline Eyster.

The Arx Society is distinctly an honorary organization, and recognizes only those men on campus who have truly represented the University of Toledo. Only thirteen men are a part of this group throughout a year's period.

Belonging to this kind of a group should be the goal of each and every University student, since it selects only those who have shown an unusual ability in at least two activities and who have maintained an above average in scholarship.

There are now in the group, journalists, scholars, debaters, engineers and athletes, which is certainly a diverse society.

The constitution of this organization is secret.

Usually this honorary taps new members at two different times during the year. This year they tapped at the Student Council Spring Formal and at the Men's Songfest in the spring. Tapped during this year were Vernon Chriss, John Jones, Joseph Koch, Newell Kaufman and Dan Blough.

Although the men belonging to the Arx Society have many other activities on campus, they somehow manage to maintain quite a number of social activities for themselves. This year for their traditional get-together with the women's honorary, the Peppers, a spring breakfast was planned in the month of May. Also traditionally, they ushered for the all-sorority songfest in the Toledo Museum Peristyle. To complete the social calendar, they sponsored a President's Ball in the spring of the year, inviting as guests, all the presidents from all of the organizations on campus.

The highest reward offered to a scholarly student is election to the University Honor Society.

This can be called the most choice of school groups. It stands supreme as far as grades go, and it is the only organization on the campus which recognizes scholastic ability above everything else. It allows no personal feelings to guide the selection of the new members.

Requirements for this group are rigid. Students are eligible for election to the Honor Society during the first part of the semester of either their junior or their senior year.

Those elected in the junior year consist of selections from the upper three per cent of the junior class, and those elected in the senior year are from the upper five per cent of the graduating class and such additional students in the second five per cent as the active members decide. However, the total number elected from the graduating class cannot exceed ten per cent of it.

Candidates for masters degrees may be chosen as members, but no more than twenty per cent of the total number of master candidates may be chosen.

Most of the activities of this organization are outstanding in many other things in the University social life and are promoters for a great deal of activity.

Faculty members who belonged to high scholarship groups in their undergraduate schools are also invited to membership in the University chapter.

Although their activities are limited, the organization has the admiration of all campus groups.

The Fine Arts Club of the University of Toledo is an honorary organization which has as its purpose the enrichment of the cultural life of the University through the medium of the four arts. Members of the group are chosen for their outstanding contributions in their individual fields. This includes the four fine arts of creative writing, music, art, and dramatics. Fine Arts Club membership is limited to twenty-five.

This Club is one of the most liberal, even though it recognizes only a few in its memberships listings. Yet, it discusses at the semi-monthly meetings the most modern ideas of the present day art. It is always refreshing to find a group of students, with a serious purpose, gather together to enjoy the fine things in life. Surely, with conditions favoring timely artistic developments and advancements, the Fine Arts Club will share equally in contributing to the arts of this generation.

Each spring the group plans a student art exhibit, displaying the various works of the students in the different fields. Usually held in the Student Union, this event follows an informal line, lasting for one complete day. Paintings of the art students, writings of the literary students, and some music is provided at this time.

This organization is a member of the Toledo Art Club, each year sponsoring a delegate at their meetings. This year the delegate was Joyce Huebner.

Alpha Phi Gamma is a national honorary journalistic fraternity with a four-fold purpose. Founded to be of particular service to universities in which there is no complete department or school of journalism, it recognizes individual ability and achievement in the field while in school. APG attempts to establish cordial relationships between students and graduates in journalism.

Since all members are on the staffs of at least one student publication, the fraternity strives to promote the welfare of the school through fair use of these publications. The last purpose is the easiest to achieve. Alpha Phi Gamma unites, in a fraternal way, congenial students interested in journalism.

Unusual among journalistic fraternities, Alpha Phi Gamma accepts both men and women into membership. Service on a student publication and high scholarship will qualify a student for pledgship.

This year, its second year of reactivation after the war, Alpha Phi Gamma launched a program to promote better relations between this school and Bowling Green State University. Prominent in the plan was a six-foot Indian peace pipe trophy, co-sponsored by APG and the Press Club of Bowling Green. It attracted nation-wide attention and achieved everything the fraternity desired.

A major share of the organization's social program was devoted to joint meetings, dinners and parties with the Bowling Green group. The biggest item on the business agenda was the reactivation of the Press Club at this school. Under normal conditions it would serve as a pledge group to Alpha Phi Gamma.

This mathematic club was organized at the University of Toledo in October, 1929, and, at the suggestion of Hamard Vogel, the new organization was given the name "Delta X".

To be a member of the club a student had to be taking, or have taken a course in Calculus. In 1937, the American Mathematical Monthly recognized Delta X as the largest undergraduate mathematics club in the United States.

Some of the annual activities of this club are the get-acquainted picnic in the fall, either a skating or Christmas party in the mid-year, a picnic in the spring, plus the monthly business meetings at which speakers are presented.

At these meetings and gatherings the purpose of this organization is achieved. This purpose is to stimulate interest in phases of collegiate mathematics which are not normally encountered in regular courses of the University, to promote good fellowship among those who have a common interest in mathematics and to make a contribution to the University's facilities for furnishing a broad cultural education for its students.

This year the specific aim was to present a view of the uses of mathematics in various fields of industry. Some of these fields are finance and insurance, meteorology, astronomy, jet propulsion or aeronautics, and other branches of engineering.

This organization, which is a national honorary education society was originally founded in the year of 1911. It was founded with the purpose in mind of promoting a closed bond among the many students of the College of Education as well as to try to enter into a closer fellowship with those people who have dedicated themselves to the serious cause of teaching as a profession for which specialized training is of vital importance. All in all, there are 150 different chapters of Kappa Delta Pi located in various teacher training institutions of the United States. The first group was organized in the University of Illinois with only a small membership, but since that time it has acquired thirty thousand members throughout the country.

At the University of Toledo, a student applying for membership is required to have a B plus grade average, or to be more exact, must have a quality point average of 2.2, and must also be in the College of Education.

This group did not appear on the University of Toledo's campus until the year of 1945, when Jeanne Nash was the first president of the society.

Early in the year, students' qualifications were checked for eligibility to become members, and a banquet to install the new initiates started their social calendar.

At various other programs during the two semesters, a panel discussion was held with the Men's National honorary, Pi Delta Kappa, a report was given to the group by Katherine LaFleur, who was their delegate to the Atlantic City Convention, and a lecture was given by the superintendent of the Sylvania Schools, Ira N. Baumgardner.

Kappa Gamma, Women's Pharmaceutical Society, was organized in November, 1945, with Catherine M. Glendenning and Flora Terada as the co-founders. The first meeting and election of officers took place in the senior dispensing laboratory in the College of Pharmacy. Dean Bess G. Emch, acting dean of the college, was the first faculty advisor. This year, when Mrs. Emch was no longer a member of the faculty, Kappa Gamma was fortunate in having Mrs. Gertrude Burg, wife of Dr. Walter V. Burg, as the faculty advisor.

This group has plans of affiliating with a national pharmacy group in the near future.

The aim of the group is to better the profession of pharmacy for women by learning of various phases women may enter into pharmacy and by associations socially on this campus.

Regular meetings are held every other Tuesday.

Activities included in this year's calendar were a freshman mixer in Phylliss Brown's home in November; a Christmas dinner at the Delft House, which also served as a rush party for all eligible women; a second semester rush party for women who have successfully passed one semester obtaining a 1.0 point average. Various informal get-togethers during the year completed the activities.

The pin of Kappa Gamma is a small gold mortar and pestle bearing the Greek Letters of Kappa Gamma. The mortar and pestle is one of the pharmacists most valuable pieces of professional equipment.

Phi Alpha Theta, national historical honorary fraternity, was founded at the University of Arkansas on March 14, 1921. From that early beginning the fraternity now has a total of forty-one chapters in twenty-one different states from New York to California, and Minnesota to Texas. The fraternity has aided in developing and increasing vital interest in all branches of the history field. Recognition of the growth, program, strength and standing of the fraternity was given in 1945 when Phi Alpha Theta was elected to full membership in the Association of College Honor Societies, the highest rank that can be reached by any honorary group. In 1938 was established "The Historian", the only publication of its kind in the historical field where the younger historian has an opportunity to have worthwhile manuscripts published, and where the better known historian also may find a place for his shorter works.

A basic requirement for membership in Phi Alpha Theta is a vital interest in history. Scholarship and character requirements also are necessary for membership. The colors of the fraternity are madonna red and madonna blue. The official flower is the red rose. The insignia of the fraternity may be worn by its duly initiated members.

The Regional Convention, held at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, in December, was attended by Herbert Schering, Mary Jane Hausmann and Eleanor Jones, members of the University chapter.

Not only has Phi Alpha Theta grown to a position of great importance in the national field, but the work of many of its individual chapters has been outstanding. Alpha-Kappa Chapter at the University of Toledo aided in sponsoring the United Nations Mock Assembly held at the University last May. This was attended by representatives of various colleges of Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Pi Gamma Mu is a National Social Science Honor Society. It was founded in April, 1924, at Southwestern College in Kansas. The University of Toledo chapter, the Ohio Beta, is one of the charter chapters, being organized in December, 1924. Pi Gamma Mu now has over one hundred active chapters and several thousands of members. Membership is limited to faculty members and to juniors, seniors, and graduates who show themselves worthy of the honor, by unusual interest and aptitude in the study of such sciences.

The purpose of Pi Gamma Mu is the inculcation of the ideals of scholarship and social service in the study of social problems; to instill in the mind of the individual a scientific attitude toward all social problems. The motto of the Society is "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

At the October dinner meeting, Dr. O. Garfield Jones spoke to the group, on "What Kind of Government." In November, Mrs. Alfred Wagers, of the Toledo Chapter, American Red Cross, spoke on "Post-war Home Service." At the initiation of new members in December, Mrs. Norma Stoltzenbach gave a Christmas reading.

Mrs. Henry Cossitt spoke in "The Labor-Management Citizens Committee in Toledo" in January, and the title of Miss Rose Bloom's address in February was "The Future of Palestine." In March, Mrs. I. A. Rustad, of the Toledo Board of Education, spoke to the society on "Seeking Help on Personal Problems." "The Woman's Part in Crime Prevention" was the title of Mrs. Margaret Slater's talk in April, and, in May, Mr. Arthur Gould spoke on "The Philosophy of Sartre." At this same meeting officers for the new year were installed, and a successful year came to a close.

Sigma Alpha Omega, Home Economics Honorary Sorority was first organized at the University of Toledo in the fall of 1938. The object of this organization has been to create and stimulate interests that will promote scholarship, leadership, and the growth of character and personality on a high level. The group also helps to make more effective the work now being done, as well as to further the development of Home Economics in the University of Toledo.

To be eligible for membership, the student must have completed 12 hours in Home Economics, must be at least a Sophomore in rank in the University of Toledo, having participated actively in the college Home Economics Club for one year previous to her election to this organization. The student shall be required to have a 1.5 or C— average in general subjects, and a 2.0 rating or a B average in Home Economics. The election shall also be based on character and leadership.

During the past ten years, eighty women have been initiated into this organization. Keeping within the field of Home Economics, money-making projects have been bake sales—and selling “The American Woman Cook Book”. Each year at the Christmas Party gifts made by the members are exchanged and each spring Founder’s Day is celebrated with a banquet. Picnics are held during the summer and fall. In December 1947, Sigma Alpha Omega joined with the Ellen H. Richards Club in having a bazaar in the Home Economics Department on the Campus to secure money in order to purchase needed equipment for the foods and clothing laboratories.

The group also has established a Scholarship Fund which will enable a student interested in Home Economics to attend the University of Toledo.

Reactivated this year after a war time lapse of four years, Pi Kappa Delta has been a campus leader in establishing the University's highly regarded forensic program.

The national forensic fraternity, of which the Toledo Chapter—Ohio Theta—is an integral part, has over 80 chapters located at many of the nation's leading universities and colleges from almost every state in the union.

During the first week of April, the University sent a delegation to the Great Lakes Provincial Tournament at Michigan State College, East Lansing, and the Toledoans garnered their share of wins. The four local participants entered the debate, extemporaneous speaking, discussion and oratory contests.

Pi Kappa Delta members are selected from those on the Debate Association roster who have engaged in a minimum of six inter-collegiate debates.

Sigma Rho Tau is an honor society whose main object is to insure a closer bond of understanding between the general public and engineers by developing the speaking ability of engineers. The group was organized in October, 1929 at the University of Michigan by four students and Professor Robert D. Brackett. The organization was known as the "Stump Speakers' Society" for a few years then the name was changed to the present Greek letters. There is also an active alumni group located in Detroit.

During the year the four active chapters—University of Toledo, University of Michigan, University of Detroit, and the Detroit Institute of Technology, held debates and exchanged speakers for their chapter meetings. A National Convention, which highlights the year's activities, is held during May at the University of Michigan. The annual convention indicates the improvement of the speech abilities of the members from year to year. Many different types of speech-contests are held.

The year's activities of the Sigma chapter here at the University of Toledo included a roast at Sidecut Park and a dance held in the Student Union plus the regular bi-monthly meetings which include practice in delivering all types of speeches.

During January, John Juhasz replaced Suzanne Jagers as Recording Secretary and John Arnot replaced Richard Oliver as Treasurer. Also at mid-year twenty new men were taken into the chapter.

Committee chairmen for the year were as follows: Debate, Walter Pagels; Publicity, Richard Reisbach; Refreshments, Donald Logan; Nominating, Richard Oliver; Exchange Speakers, Harry Seubert; Initiation, John Suprock; National Convention, John Flick; and Social, Walter Kobil.

The University of Toledo Engineering Society aims to acquaint the students in engineering with engineering work in the professional field. This year the society was reorganized and under the leadership of Dan Perch, President, the membership was increased to 225, making it one of the largest societies on the campus.

In celebration of the University's 75th anniversary the Engineering College under the leadership of Dr. John B. Brandeberry, Dean, held an open house. The Engineering Society assisted in setting up displays, planning publicity, serving as guides, and procuring speakers and movies. This open house was termed the most successful one held in recent years.

This year the Engineering Society was the only independent group to prepare a float for the Home Coming Parade. The float, a large rocket, typified the "beat Akron" spirit of the entire University.

The monthly meetings were always planned with a two-fold purpose in mind; to acquaint the students with the new developments in the field of engineering as well as foster friendships. To meet this plan such men as Delos Palmer, former dean of Engineering, Mr. Hibbard of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, and Mr. H. Rice of the Bell Telephone were obtained as speakers. In addition, movies showing some of the latest applications of engineering principles were shown. In order to better show the student the vastness of the modern industrial plants, field tours were sponsored for Detroit, Cleveland, and other nearby industrial centers.

Secretary Faith Kreps

Representatives of the different religious organizations on the University campus meet once a month to further the religious life of the University students and the faculty members. The Religious Council was organized in 1939 and since then the members have performed a service to the school and to the various churches of Toledo.

One student is elected from each organization at the beginning of each school year to serve on the Religious Council. They plan the many chapel services that through this short pause in the every day campus life, students may have a moment for reverence. At these chapel services there are speakers from each denomination throughout the city. Many campus organizations have helped greatly by promoting these services. Miss Charlotte Ruegger has been most generous in offering the services of the University chorus which she directs. Others who have contributed to the musical portion of the chapel services are the chorus of the Y.W.C.A. and soloists from the Newman Club as well as many other student soloists.

The Chapel services ended this year with the close of Easter. For the remainder of the school year the members of the Religious Council have co-operated with the World Student Service Fund which provides money for needy students in Europe.

Mrs. Florence Radabaugh, the chairman of the Religious Council, has been a great inspiration and help to the members. She has willingly given her time and energy to promote the activities of the Council.

The University of Toledo Canterbury Club was organized to provide a closer bond between Episcopal students through an understanding of the church doctrine and to promote and exchange ideas.

From the year 1910 to the year 1915, a research study was under way in order to find a club name for the existing Episcopalian organization. The name Canterbury was chosen and later this was changed to the national name for the clubs in all of the colleges. The association of Canterbury clubs is therefore not a new student organization. It is a fellowship of already existing church student groups.

In order to participate in the full life of the church it is important to have clearly defined aims. These might be regarded as the minimum standards of any Episcopal student group. The association of Canterbury clubs offers a program in its constitution in the following five fields: worship, study, service, giving and unity.

The events that highlighted the Canterbury Club program this year was a gathering of the members for a Valentine's Day Party for orphans between the ages of eight and ten from the Lucas County Orphans Home.

Mr. Gorden M. Jones was secured as a speaker for one of the Lincoln services sponsored by the Canterbury Club. At several of the business meetings there were interesting speakers.

A much more active and interesting program has been suggested by the National Council for the coming year. This includes a banquet to interest new members, a panel discussion on "Can the University Be A Christian Institution", interesting speakers, and many recreational activities.

The past year has been one of reorganization for the Lutheran Student Association here on the University Campus. Under the enthusiastic leadership of its advisor, Pastor James Baldwin, of Messiah Lutheran Church, the Lutheran Student Association's officers and members are completely overhauling the present organization. We are revising our program to fit the needs of Lutheran students on a municipal campus. We are now engaged in completing a questionnaire to be sent to all Lutheran Students on campus. The results from the questionnaire will enable us to better revise our meetings.

Perhaps the main purpose or objective of the Lutheran Student Association is to bring the Lutheran Students together for helpful, educational, and social fellowship. By doing this we accomplish two-fold objectives. We meet Lutheran Students from other churches than our own, and thus broaden our spiritual and social lives. Any Lutheran student at the University is eligible for membership.

On the weekend of February 28, a number of our members together with our advisor attended the Ohio Valley Region Convention of Lutheran Student Groups which was held at Wittenberg College in Springfield, Ohio. They received many helpful ideas and pamphlets which will also help us in our reorganization.

We meet in the various Lutheran Churches on the first Sunday afternoon of every month, from 3 to 5. The meetings are usually held as supper meetings, sometimes potluck, and sometimes prepared meals. Recreational activities follow the supper.

The Newman Club is an organization for Catholic culture and fellowship, whose purpose is the fostering of spiritual, intellectual, and social interests of the Catholic University student. The meetings of the club are held every two weeks and consist of a short business meeting followed by informative talks on our faith or by a social program.

During the year, our progress has been marked by many social events in addition to our semi-monthly Communion breakfasts. The first of these was a mixer given in the Student Union for all entering freshmen. This was followed by a Halloween party and our inaugural Christmas semi-formal dance. It was also our distinction and pleasure to sponsor this year's Glass Bowl Queen, Nancy Bothe. In November the club sent its delegates to the convention of Newman Clubs of the Ohio Valley Province in Cleveland.

As the second semester opened, a new membership drive got under way and was very successful. During Lent the members attended Lenten services prior to their meetings. The retreat for the members given by Father C. E. Mooney, S.J. was the high point of our year's religious activities. The spring formal given in May was the climax of the social activities of this year's Newman Club. On the whole, the year was most successful and all members are looking forward to the next year. The group is ably guided by C. J. Kirschner, advisor, and Father C. E. Mooney, S.J., chaplain.

The University Young Women's Christian Association is one of the most active groups on the campus with a membership of 265. All women on campus are eligible for membership in the organization.

The purpose of the University Y.W.C.A. is to develop leadership among its members, to help freshman women adjust to the life of the campus, to develop wholesome friendships and interests, and to cooperate and offer its services to the University and to the community. The Y.W.C.A. seeks to stimulate interest and participation in the religious programs presented on the campus.

In the fall, a welcoming party was planned for all entering freshmen women. In October, the membership drive was unusually successful and we welcomed to our group many new members. Cleveland demanded our attention in November when representatives were sent to attend the annual World Acquaintance Tour, where a program was planned to study the problem of Russia, and to gain an understanding of that country. An Orphan's Christmas party in December at the Miami Children's Home was one of the happiest occasions of the year. In the spring we looked forward to the Mothers tea in April, and to our installation of new officers in May.

There has been close cooperation with the Y.M.C.A. in social events held each month. These have included dances, a Christmas party, splash party and roasts. The Y.W.C.A. was this year a co-sponsor, with the Y.M.C.A., of two Convocation Services, several forums, and a series of four Marriage Round Table discussions, led by Mrs. Edward Lorenz this winter.

Mrs. Floyd Radabaugh, advisor to the group, and Mrs. Jessie L. Ward, chairman of the advisory board, have aided the YMCA in both its social and educational plans.

The Y.M.C.A. provides a religious, social, and world program for full-time students at the University. Membership is open to all races, colors, and creeds.

The outstanding non-social events of the year have been: marriage relations, personal development, labor economics, and racial brotherhood. The Y.M.C.A. has sponsored lectures, forums, and debates at the University as well as speakers and round table discussions at the regular bi-monthly meetings at the downtown Y.M.C.A.

The year was crowded with activities for the Y.M.C.A. The social activities of the group were started in October with a roast. Members of the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. gave a Christmas party for one of the local orphanages at which time each orphan was given a present from members of the groups. A splash party at the downtown Y.M.C.A. attracted a large number of members and their friends. The second semester's activities began with an informal round table discussion of marriage problems. These discussions were moderated by various experts who also spoke on a pertinent topic.

The YM has one of the larger memberships on campus as well as a very successful publicity committee, headed by John Proeschel.

The French Club of the University of Toledo brings together all of the French speaking students and enables them to enjoy many of the different phases of the French language.

The third week of each month usually finds them gathered together enjoying the French classics, listening to the lectures of the French art and the French music, or reading together the literature of the French people. Movies and lectures on French are also presented for the entertainment of the group.

La Cercle Francais, as it is sometimes called, gives the students of the French department an opportunity to meet together and gain a better understanding of the language. The organization also aims to stimulate a keener interest in the civilization and the culture of France. All students of French are eligible for membership to this organization.

Sometimes guest lecturers are invited in to widen their knowledge and broaden their views of the current and past events concerning the nation that they are studying. Often times they study French games and sing French songs.

At Christmas time, this group usually celebrates the holiday with a party that portrays some relation to France. Numerous other events were planned for the enjoyment of the members.

French classes have an increasing number of students each semester and the organization is also growing.

The German Club of the University of Toledo is organized to try to promote a better understanding and a greater appreciation of the real Germany and the part it has played in the making of the whole Western Civilization. The many activities of the group work hand in hand with the language classroom instruction by providing opportunities for the expression of the interests of the Club. German folksongs, fairytales and carols which are sung or presented at these meetings, afford an insight into the rich folklore of the country, while the interest in the things that have to do with the German nation is kept alive by reports of one kind or another.

Highlights of the year are the singing of Christmas Carols in German and an old fashioned Yule-tide party at which German cookies are served.

It is hoped that the group singing of the beautiful German Folksongs may become a tradition of the German Club on this campus as it has on so many other campuses of the country.

SIGMA DELTA PI

OFFICERS

President Theodore Gibowski
Secretary-Treasurer Eleanor Jones
Advisor Mrs. Rosario Floripe

This organization is one of the few national language groups that are on the campus of the University of Toledo. The purpose of national Sigma Delta Pi is to encourage a wider knowledge and to produce a greater love for all of the Hispanic contributions that have been given to our present day culture. The purpose of this organization is also to act as a nucleus for the activities for the Spanish students at their regional meetings, as well as to more fully encourage the friendly relations and the cooperative spirit that already exists between the nations that now speak the Hispanic language and those that speak the English language. The vigorous spirit of the organization can be clearly seen in their motto. It reads: "Let us go forward under the inspiration of the high Hispanic Ideals."

Sigma Delta Pi effectively manages to carry on the program so as to better enable the students of the Spanish language to more deeply appreciate the culture of the Hispanic people.

Under the able guidance of Senora Floripe the group manages to gain a broader knowledge of the Spanish customs, habits and ideas with first hand information of the actual things.

New members of the organization are usually initiated at one of the meetings during the spring of the year. It is at this time that certificates and pins are presented to those honorary members who were unable to attend the meeting of the previous year.

The Spanish Club, or as it is more commonly called, El Centro Espanol, is the social center for the students and their friends of the Spanish culture.

Like many of the people in Spain today, this group has no definite meeting place, therefore it gathers monthly in the home of one of its members, or in the Student Union.

Also a social group, the Spanish Club gives Spanish parties and sings Christmas Carols in Spanish for some of the other organizations on the campus.

Advisor Senora Floripe helps to keep things going with some of the material that she brings to meetings for discussion purposes and also to acquaint the members with the customs and doings of the Spanish race. Spanish songs, poetry and customs are taught to the group, who sometimes puts them to use at their own parties and gatherings.

Members of this organization are not only taught more respect for the beauty of the Spanish language and race, but are given an opportunity to use the language they are learning and to be more free and friendly with it. The Spanish Club increases and develops an interest in the life, language, customs and traditions of Spain. Students and faculty are given the opportunity to speak Spanish at the meetings of the group.

The group holds their business meetings once a month and their social meetings twice a month.

The Biological Society was founded at the University of Toledo in the fall of 1946, by two biology students, Ruth Becker and Carolyn Eyster, together with the help of Dr. Floyd J. Brinley. Membership in this organization is open to all students interested in biology.

Although the group is still quite young, it is very active. The purpose is to give to any interested student a chance to stimulate and further his knowledge and understanding of the biological sciences.

Among the society's varied activities are field trips to the Oak Openings, various parks, the Zoological Gardens, and manufacturing concerns. Speakers were chosen from Toledo because of their special interest in some special phase of biology. The members also enjoyed movies and slides of medical interest, and a never-to-be-forgotten pigeon roast.

The Business Administration Club of the University of Toledo was first organized in the year of 1929. After being on an inactive status for a few years, it was again organized shortly before World War II. The principle purpose of the organization is to acquaint the business student with the actual work of business, to further the knowledge and interest in the increasingly varied fields of business, and to provide a strong feeling of fellowship among its members. Field trips are often taken to the different plants in the city, where the members meet the business executives there and see actual business in operation.

At the monthly meetings of the group, the programs are planned to be educational as well as social. At a few times during the year, business executives and advisors lectured at their meetings.

Sometimes round tables are planned to discuss the current problems of the business people. At these round tables, professional men in the field of the discussion contributed to the discussions with the actual problems faced by them in the business world.

As the city of Toledo is one of the growing industrial cities of the United States, the more specialized and varied business activities of the city make the need of a business group such as this one a more important part of the University of Toledo.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY

OFFICERS

President.....Joe R. Stratton
Vice-President.....William Mercer
Secretary-Treasurer.....Norman Frisk
Advisor....Prof. Donald K. Brundage

On October 30, 1942, the University of Toledo Chemical Society became affiliated with the American Chemical Society. Prior to that time, the group acted as a purely local organization.

The University of Toledo Chapter of Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society is primarily intended for undergraduate students in chemistry and chemical engineering in the University of Toledo. However, all chemistry students are eligible for membership in the U. of T. chapter, but are not eligible for affiliation with the national organization.

The object of this organization is to afford an opportunity for the students of chemistry and chemical engineering in the University to become better acquainted, to secure the intellectual stimulation that arises from professional association, to foster a professional spirit among the members, and to instill a professional pride in chemistry.

Professor Donald K. Brundage acts as faculty sponsor for the group. He also serves as the official link between the local chapter and the society. He is aided by Mr. Arthur Black, co-advisor for the local organization, in advising the local organization and in advising the chapter in its local activities.

During the year, the activities of the organization have been many and varied. They took trips to local manufacturing concerns to see the action of chemistry in industry; the members also increased their knowledge of the chemical field by including in their meetings movies, speakers, demonstrations of a chemical as well as an industrial nature and talks by prominent members of the University staff and from the chemical profession on chemistry and related subjects.

Row Two—Koch, J.; Crawford, D.; McClellan, N.; Childress, O.; Ridley, L.; Strauss, J.; Benson, D.; Shenefield, J.; Bretell, M.; Fearing, J.; Ritz, R.; Chriss, V.

The chorus affords students a means of self-expression through music and its study. Creative work of the members is encouraged and is supervised by talented musicians. It is made up of students from all of the classes, male and female, and is under the able direction of Miss Charlotte Ruegger. In its musical study, the chorus covers both the vocal and historical aspect of music.

In co-operation with the Religious Council, the group assists in the weekly chapel services, sometimes singing special hymns, sometimes assisting with the group singing and always singing the University's own Benediction, "May The Love Of God Unite Us", written by Miss Ruegger.

In addition, an evening Christmas Concert was given. This was dedicated to the parents of University students. This concert was divided into two parts, one consisting of the "Christ Child" cantata and the other consisting of group singing and solo work of the more famous Christmas carols.

At the convocation service at Easter time, another concert was given. For this program, a major part of the "Crucifixion" was presented, with solos by Bonnie Parcell, Joan Brewton, Nina McClellan, and Bill Miller.

The chorus also assisted in the inauguration of President White in May.

As a means of spreading musical culture at the University, the University Chorus gave a reception for the duo-pianists, Teicher and Farrente in November.

CIVIL ENGINEERS

OFFICERS

Student Chapters of the American Society of Civil Engineers were established to afford the beginnings of professional associations. Experience in preparing, presenting, and discussing papers, comparing impressions of engineering problems, making appraisals of men from their writings, and forming judgements as to the practical aspects of projects thus described contribute to mental development; the business of conducting chapter activities, holding office, securing outside speakers, visiting works under construction, and reading the publications of the society afford those initial contacts with the profession, and should be carried on simultaneously with studies in the class-room.

The purpose of the organization is to help the student prepare himself for entry into the profession and the Society. Qualified graduates will want to become members of the Society because they can see mutual advantages in the relationship. Whether he joins the Society or not, he should benefit from the activities of the chapter.

This year, dinner meetings were held regularly once a month with the most important one being in November, when the student chapter was host to the men of the Toledo Section A.S.C.E. As speakers during the semester we secured W. B. Robinson, Division Engineer of the Ohio State Highway Dept., and Porter W. McDonnell, of the City of Toledo Lucas County Planning Commission.

We also heard Mr. W. R. Rogers, Division Traffic Engineer. On May 8, our chapter was host to some ten other student chapters from nearby universities.

Long one of the University's more active organizations, the Debate Association this year was especially busy.

The group traveled extensively during both semesters to engage such schools as Michigan, Denison, Bowling Green, Baldwin-Wallace and Ohio State. But the Association's most successful event of the year came at the Buckeye Tournament, held annually at Kent State University in mid-winter, when the Toledo squad, in competition with over 25 Ohio colleges, ranked high at the completion of the day's proceedings.

In addition to these inter-collegiate debates, the organization was host to numerous colleges, many of them from distant points, at our campus and the Toledo area. Classes at DeVilbiss, Scott, Waite and Whitney Vocational high schools provided thoughtful audiences on several occasions when engagements were held off campus. University speech classes, too, proved receptive when contests were scheduled here.

Although debating is its first activity, the Association also stimulates interest in other forensic endeavors—public speaking and oratory stand high on the group's agenda.

All students are eligible for membership in the Debate Association. The organization will, in fact, accept any student who evidences a desire for membership and, if he is without previous experience, will train him for participation in inter-collegiate debating.

The Dorm M Club was formed in September of 1947, and is composed of the 62 residents of Dormitory M.

This Club functions to acquaint the residents of the dormitory with each other and to promote friendly and social activities within the group and with other dormitory groups on campus. The members meet twice a month to plan their social affairs and to make rules for dormitory living.

The residents of the dormitory voted to form a Grievance Committee which had the ticklish job of enforcing quiet hours, and which also brought to the attention of the University administration any repairs which the dormitory needed.

The Dorm M Club co-operated with the Tower View Club in providing a well-planned social calendar for the residents of the dormitories. A number of dances and parties were given by the two organizations during the year. The Thanksgiving Dance in the Student Union was the highlight of a year of many memorable social events.

The Dorm M Club also participated in many sports including football, basketball and softball.

Through their social program and a well-organized group, the residents maintained a pleasing atmosphere of harmony and fellowship throughout the year.

The Elementary Education Club was formed to give the students a better understanding of the field of education, and to inter-exchange ideas between the students and those already in the profession.

The organization has provided a valuable service to the school and to the members of the group with its informative program.

The meetings of the group are dinner meetings which are held monthly. These meetings are not only educational, but they provide a pleasant evening of social relaxation while "talking shop". The seniors, who are practicing teaching often give an account of their teaching experiences and speakers are also chosen to speak on specific topics that interest the group.

The Club is advised by Dr. Carver and Dr. Cunningham.

With the International affairs creating such a stir among all kinds of people today, the International Relations Club has a growing membership list. Entrance into the Club is gained by the mere interest in international affairs, and naturally, during times such as these, this interest runs high.

At their monthly meetings, the organization finds that it is a most contemporary task to study the present European situation. With the racial problem in our own United States increasing due to these foreign causes some discussion is also given to that subject. War is not a weapon to this group; peace is the byword.

The International Relations Club is sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for international peace. The object of the group is to bring the students of the university together to discuss the ever important international affairs of the current world and to acquaint them with the many and varied current problems. The organization sponsors a series of speakers at their meetings, as well as giving review of books dealing with events and news of the world.

The alumni group of the Ivy Leaf Club is an active part of the chapter on the campus and manages to cooperate with their activities.

Activities for the year were introduced with a tea honoring the members that have just been pledged to the group.

The Ivy Leaf Promenade which was held in the month of March for all campus groups was the outstanding event of the year. Each organization sent two representatives to the dance and the affair was a huge success.

Other social events of the year included a Halloween party and dance in the Student Union building. This gathering was followed by an officer's installation dinner during the Christmas vacation. A senior farewell tea concluded the year's program.

One of the most active organizations on the campus is the Ellen Richards Club. It is open to any woman student who has had several hours of Home Economics to her credit.

The calendar of the Club is popular and widely diversified and each girl that belongs to this organization takes an active interest in the group because of the outstanding functions.

Once a month, the supper meeting proves to be an exciting time, not only because of the grand suppers which are cooked in the food laboratory by the girls and so generously served, but also for the interesting and educational speakers who are guests at these meetings.

A convention is one of the outstanding events of the year. One student is chosen from the organization to attend this convention as representative from Toledo.

On December 10, the Ellen Richards Club, with the help of the entire Home Economics Department, sponsored a Christmas bazaar in the four laboratories. At this bazaar baby clothes, pot holders, argyle socks, doilies, aprons, gloves, scarves, dolls, toys, and baked goods all made by the students were sold.

On May 17, 1947, Kappa Phi Sigma, the local pre-medical fraternity became the Ohio Beta chapter of the Alpha Epsilon Delta organization.

The purpose of the national fraternity is to stimulate higher scholarship among the students of pre-medicine, and to bind together the students of similar ideas and objectives. Membership in the organization is limited to men studying pre-medicine, who have creditable scholarship.

This year the group was addressed by Dr. Steinberg, the pathologist at Toledo Hospital, speaking on cancer, Gregory Edmunds, a student member, spoke on venereal disease. The chapter also saw movies on amputations, thoracic surgery, and psychiatric disorders.

Members of the fraternity and their guests enjoyed a pleasant evening of games, dancing and refreshments at the annual Christmas party that was held in the Student Union.

It is the duty of the Alpha Epsilon Delta pledge class to decorate the bulletin board in the biology department. This board is used for articles, pictures, and general news of medical interest.

The national convention of the pre-medical fraternity was held in April, at the University of Colorado, in Boulder. The Colorado Alpha Chapter was host to representatives from Chapters from all over the country. Four members of the Toledo Chapter attended the convention which included business meetings, steak fries, a tour of the University of Colorado medical school, and a large closing banquet.

At the end of the year, the annual roast for members of Alpha Epsilon Delta who are leaving for medical school was sponsored by Sigma Mu Tau, and the year closed with initiation and elections of new officers.

Kappa Psi, international honorary pharmaceutical fraternity was founded in 1879 and incorporated in 1903. The local Beta Lambda Chapter of Kappa Psi received its charter on May 22, 1925 and has been active to date except during the war years of 1943-45.

Kappa Psi aims to promote friendship, to uphold standards of scholarship, and to develop a sense of professional ethics among the men who are studying the fine art of the apothecary.

Members are selected upon invitation and placed on probation for a time before being elected. During the 1947-48 school year Beta Lambda Chapter had 33 active members and 10 pledges.

Among the activities sponsored by Kappa Psi are outing picnics, bowling matches, stag parties and an annual Christmas Dance and Spring Formal. Scientific talks by drug salesmen, detail men, etc. on subjects of pharmaceutical interest are also arranged by the organization.

Kappa Psi men also take an active part in the observance of National Pharmacy Week and in the Open House Celebration which the College of Pharmacy holds during that week.

The Kappa Psi Scholarship Key is presented to any Kappa Psi man who graduates at the head of his class. This award is made by the Grand Chapter.

Our chapter sent three delegates to the biennial Kappa Psi Convention which was held at the St. Clair Hotel in Chicago on Dec. 28-30, 1947.

Charles H. Larwood, Dean of the College of Pharmacy is a member of Kappa Psi and serves as our advisor.

MacKinnon Hall, men's dormitory, is a comparatively new building, built shortly before the war, and houses over 200 men students. All of its residents are eligible for membership in the club. They are organized, complete with a constitution elected officers,, etc. As a social group they sponsor parties, dances and roasts, but the majority of their social life consists of bull sessions held anywhere in the building. The residents of the hall maintain that more fraternal life exists in the dorm than in any Greek organization on campus. Unmade beds, bull sessions and card games are more desirable than room inspections, but the former necessitates the latter.

MacKinnon Hall is one of the organizations on the campus that was really hit hard by the draft during the war years, but is now back in full swing, and rather dwarfed by the many other temporary dwellings for resident students.

Although there is not too much time for too great a social calendar for the men of MacKinnon Hall, the group did sponsor a Christmas Formal dance honoring the women residents at Libbey Hall.

Due to limited facilities, the club has had no chance for too many informal get togethers, and independent athletic teams have constituted most of the extra-curricular activities of the year.

The purpose of the organization is to acquaint the members of the dormitory with each other, but at the present time their highest ideal is to try to maintain a stronger organization.

PAN AMERICAN LEAGUE

OFFICERS

Secretary.....Barbara Ward

With the continued progress and advancement of the means of travel, and the growing popularity of trips to our neighbors of the south, it is only natural that a group such as the Pan American League should be organized on the campus of the University of Toledo. The purpose of the Pan American League is to promote a sincere understanding of both the principles and the ideals of Pan Americanism. This includes an effort to gain a wider knowledge of the ideas, the customs and the habits of all of the Latin countries in general, and a sincere desire to maintain a strong bond of fellowship with our fast growing Hispanic neighbors.

Membership to this organization is not at all limited, but encouraged, and is open to any student who is sincerely interested in the Pan American relations and the language, the customs and the literature of the Latin American countries.

This group usually hold their business meetings once a month, and it is at this time that guest speakers from around Toledo talk on subjects related to Pan Americanism. The group has received some personalized views from the members of the organization who have recently been to Mexico and other neighboring countries.

The social calendar of the Pan American League is usually started out early in the month of September with a tea to welcome the new members of the organization.

At various times during the year, the Pan American League joins the International Relations Club to discuss current events concerning Pan-American affairs of state.

The object of the American Pharmaceutical Association is to give the students of pharmacy an opportunity to meet as a group and share the knowledge of its members for the social and professional progress of pharmacy.

A mixture of a social group and a professional organization, the American Pharmaceutical Association has a diversified program each year, ranging from the light informal dances and parties to the educational talks by the prominent men in the pharmaceutical circles. The group is comparatively new on the campus, but it has an active membership which has made the student branch of the association well known in the many local groups of pharmacists throughout the city of Toledo.

The year was started with a mixer for the members of the organization and the freshmen studying pharmacy, and was followed by a Sadie Hawkins Day dance in the month of November. A Christmas dinner-dance in December and in April, Dr. Wilbur W. White spoke at the banquet commemorating pharmacy week.

During this week, the members of the association brought before the students and faculty of the University, news of pharmaceutical interest. The corridors of the pharmacy department are decorated with displays of both the old and the new medicines, herbs and drugs.

The many activities of the year ended with the initiation of new members.

The primary purpose of the University Polish Club is to promote higher education among students of Polish descent. This purpose is achieved by means of a fund, which annually awards scholarships to high school seniors of Polish descent who have a high point average and who are seriously interested in attending the University of Toledo. The scholarships are awarded at the "Year End Dance" honoring entering freshmen from the various high schools in Toledo and vicinity.

An annual Scholarship Dance, which was held March twenty-eighth at the Catholic Club aided in providing money towards the fund. This dance is sponsored by the University Polish Mothers Club with the assistance of the University Polish Club.

The secondary purpose of the Club is to create a congenial atmosphere among University students in general. In the past, this aim has been accomplished by furnishing historical, scientific, and cultural enlightenment about Poland to the University Library for the benefit of the students.

Club activities commenced for the year with a Buffet Luncheon, honoring entering freshmen. This event has been followed by a series of social gatherings and informal dances, namely; a hay ride; a Christmas Formal; a Snow Party; an Anniversary Banquet; and an Alumni Picnic. In addition, the Club sponsors a basketball team, a golf tournament and a bowling league.

The Pyramid Club functions to make the members conscious of the advantages of attaining and keeping high scholastic standards, training women in the ideals, purposes, and functions of Delta Sigma Theta, and fostering understanding and sisterhood among the members of the group.

Scholarship and service are the main points in the program of the organization, and this theme is carried out in all of their projects.

The social activities of the group started in November with a party for the new pledges and their guests. At this time the members receiving the highest point average for the preceding semester was announced.

During the Christmas holidays, the Pyramid Club honored alumni at a tea in the Student Union.

The new year brought a new semester filled with many social and educational activities. The members became interested in affairs of the University and the McHarry Research Fund.

The annual spring parties and dance were the most prominent of the year's social affairs and the activities of the Pyramid Club came to a close with the installation banquet.

Although the University of Toledo Radio Association is now in the process of reorganization after its absence during the war years, it has enjoyed a profitable year.

The purpose of this organization is to provide a means whereby any University student may attain an amateur radio license, and to offer a semester of training in radio theory and code instruction for all those interested.

The dream of the association has always been to have in its possession, a transmitter of one kilowatt, or 1000 watts—the legal limit authorized by the Federal Communications Commission. This year, that dream came true, the members started from scratch to rebuild the interstation, which now has, for the first time, two separate transmitters.

The kilowatt, the large transmitter, operates on ten meter frequency, with 250 watts on lower-frequency amateur bands. It also has a remote-controlled beam antenna on top of the Doerman Theater.

In addition to instructions given to the members, the activities of the Radio Association throughout the year included continuous operation of its amateur radio station W8JHEM, during the engineering open house, held on February 27. During the year, contacts were made with foreign amateurs located in England, Mexico, and South America, in addition to numerous Canadian domestic stations.

Members of the Association were responsible for the fine decorations of the tower at Christmas time.

The monthly meetings have included various speakers and amateurs from Toledo area, and movies on technical radio subjects.

The Toledo University Red Cross has a membership of fifty-one students who have pledged themselves to help the Toledo chapter collect funds and carry out the various duties of the Red Cross.

Election of officers was held in September and Jane King was chosen as president. Guiding this organization is a big job and Jane did it well.

In December some of the members decorated Christmas trees at the Rossford Ordnance Depot and the Naval Armory.

On January 28, Jane was on the "Marjorie Wells' Women of the World" radio program. It was a personal interview program pertaining to safety in winter sports as outlined by the American Red Cross.

March first began the annual Red Cross fund campaign. Class-room collections totaled $204.16 and the membership drive netted $51.00 which made a grand total of $255.16 for the University.

The annual Red Cross Auction which is held in the spring of every year did not take place this spring. The Red Cross policy disbands such a procedure. Therefore, the groups on campus donated their money in the amount that they would have used in the auction.

The annual Red Cross Convention was held this year in Columbus, Ohio. The delegates, Betty McKenzie and Charlotte Young, attended many discussion groups concerning the collections of funds and ways in which students can help their local Red Cross chapters.

Earnestly desiring to take full advantage of opportunities to further qualify themselves for future participation in the business life of our community, a group of business and engineering students, with the loyal and friendly co-operation of Advisor Philip H. Hensel, brought about the re-activation of the University Student Chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management after the close of the war. At the present time the Toledo University Society is one of the forty-one similar student organizations in universities throughout the country.

Affiliation with the Society gives the student of business regular contacts with leading Toledo business men who are directly concerned with some form of management. Having the privilege of meeting regularly with the downtown Toledo Chapter of the Society, the members of the University organization also profit from the messages of outstanding nationally known specialists in various fields of management.

Publications of the national Society reach each student member. These publications contain timely and valuable contributions to the over-all conception of modern management.

The University Chapter was represented at the national S.A.M convention in New York last December by Mr. Hensel, who brought back constructive suggestions for future activities.

In March the Student Chapter co-operated with the Toledo Society and the University in sponsoring one of the meetings of the University's "Institute on Business Trends". This project received widespread favorable attention and was particularly beneficial to management students.

Sigma Mu Tau was founded at the University of Toledo on April 25, 1941, as an honorary sorority for medical technologists. Membership is now limited to girls of at least sophomore standing in medical technology, pre-medicine, and biology, who have shown interest and scholarship in their respective fields.

The purpose of the sorority is to bring together those women of the University who have a common interest in the biological sciences, to stimulate their interest in the sciences, to further the cause of the sciences, and to offer social contact with other people in the same field.

During the year, members of Sigma Mu Tau enjoyed talks by various doctors, medical technicians, and professors, along with movies and slides of medical interest. They worked together on a rummage sale, and a pop corn sale. Social affairs included pledging in November, initiation in January, teas, and roasts.

Dr. A. N. Solberg, assistant professor of biology, is advisor to the group, and Miss Alma Stoiber, instructor in biology, is an honorary member.

CHEERLEADERS

OFFICERS

Head Cheerleader.....Bill Miller

Assistant.....Charles Stebbins

The cheerleaders are a group of students whose primary duty is to lead other students of the University in cheering. There had been very little school spirit in the University previous to this year and the group set as one of their goals, encouraging active participation in cheering.

Most of the squad had had very little experience along this line so they had to learn by trial and error method.

In appreciation for the good job the cheering sections were doing, the cheerleaders decided to put on half-time shows. These were accepted with greater enthusiasm than was expected. This bolstered the morale of the group and they decided that they would continue the shows as long as the school retained such a fine school spirit.

The yell squad was made up this year of seven male students. The first of the squad was Charles Poore, a cheerleader from last year who was invaluable in setting up the plans for this year. Art Spaulding was always in the thick of things when it came to idea sand Bob Hendricks was certainly a big help in planning tumbling acts. Of course, we can't forget the smallest of the squad, Charles Stebbins. His tumbling exhibitions on the football field will be something for future yell leaders to remember. Jim Risser was the tall blonde member who was always ready with a new routine for handling new cheers. Gary Glomstead was the member who supplied most of the equipment. Last, but not least, is that energetic head-cheerleader, Bill Miller. To him goes a great deal of credit for the organization of the cheerleaders and his ability for putting them over in front of a crowd.

This organization strives for closer association among the University women living in Florence Scott Libbey Hall, and provides them with the opportunity to write as a group and to participate in organized activities.

The group meets monthly to plan their social affairs, and to make rules for dormitory living. Each month a party is given in honor of the girls who have had birthdays during that month.

The Tower View Club co-operates with the MacKinnon Club, and with the Dorm M Club in providing a well planned social calendar for the residents of the dormitories.

In October, the members and their guests held a roast in Sidecut Park. They celebrated the Christmas holidays with a formal in the Student Union, in December. In return for a party given by the Dorm M Club, the Tower View Club entertained that dormitory with a party. Dancing and refreshments were the order of the day, as the dormitory residents were given an opportunity to become better acquainted. The social events of the season were climaxed in April, when guests were invited to the spring dance in the Student Union.

With the pleasant and capable guidance of Mrs. Wiggins, housemother and advisor to the group, the twenty-two residents of Libbey Hall maintain harmony and fellowship, and plan a well-rounded social program.

One of the additions to the hall is a buzzer code system designed to aid visitors to the dormitory in calling any resident.

The University of Toledo Student Assembly was formerly the United States Student Assembly. It is made up of students who are interested in world affairs.

The organization is interested in advancing progressive issues and causes, and in discussing and studying problems of local and national origin.

The UTSA is established locally with other groups affiliated with the Ohio Committee on Educational Democracy. The purpose of the assembly is to attempt to relieve tension in national racial and religious groups. They also try to bring on campus groups interested in this problem. Membership is open to all, regardless of race, color, or creed.

During the year the UTSA sponsored several forums and brought to the University outside speakers who addressed the group on subjects of current interest. Felix Gentile, a member of the Board Committee Relations of the city of Toledo spoke on the techniques of improving inter-group understanding.

Clyde Shamblyn of the International Oil Workers Union addressed the group on the recent strike and labor in politics. The Taft-Hartley Law and Freedom of the Press were compared by Clyde Summers, a member of the University faculty. Bayand Rustin, of the American Friends Service, was another outside speaker.

The UTSA believes that college students are citizens of the community and as such they have the responsibility of becoming interested in local and foreign affairs.

The XS Club was organized early last year by a group of former Boy Scouts who recognized the desirability of carrying over into their campus life the ideals and principles which were instilled into them as Scouts in their boyhood days.

The purpose of the Club is to develop friendship and promote service to humanity. The XS Club renders service in four major fields: These are Service to the student body and faculty; Service to youth and community; Service to members of the Club and Service to the nation as participating citizens.

The XS Club meets on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month; the first meeting of each month being a business meeting, and the second being a program meeting.

Among the Club's service projects this year were decorating the Student Council Christmas tree; assisting the Registrar at freshman registration and assisting the local Boy Scout Council in many activities including the temporary leadership of Scout troops. The members also sang carols at the apartments and Nashville during the Christmas vacation.

The social calendar was high-lighted by a Christmas Party and dance in the Student Union and a sleigh ride. The first Annual Banquet was held in the spring.

Advisors for the year were E. Weaver and E. Foster.

The University Marching Band has finished a very successful season under the capable leadership of Charles W. Harris, band director.

This year the Marching Band performed at every home football game and at two of the out-of-town games. Their half-time shows and intricate marching formations brought many favorable comments from our students as well as from rival schools. The success of these shows was due, in part, to the versatile drum major, Howard Quiniff and his assistant, Wayne Bricker, and to Bea Kiker, Annabelle Stange, and Charlene Hamilton who preformed exceptionally well.

On October 25, the Marching Band entertained the band from Akron Kent after the Homecoming game. The party was held in the Student Union where the band members danced to the music of an orchestra composed of members of both organizations.

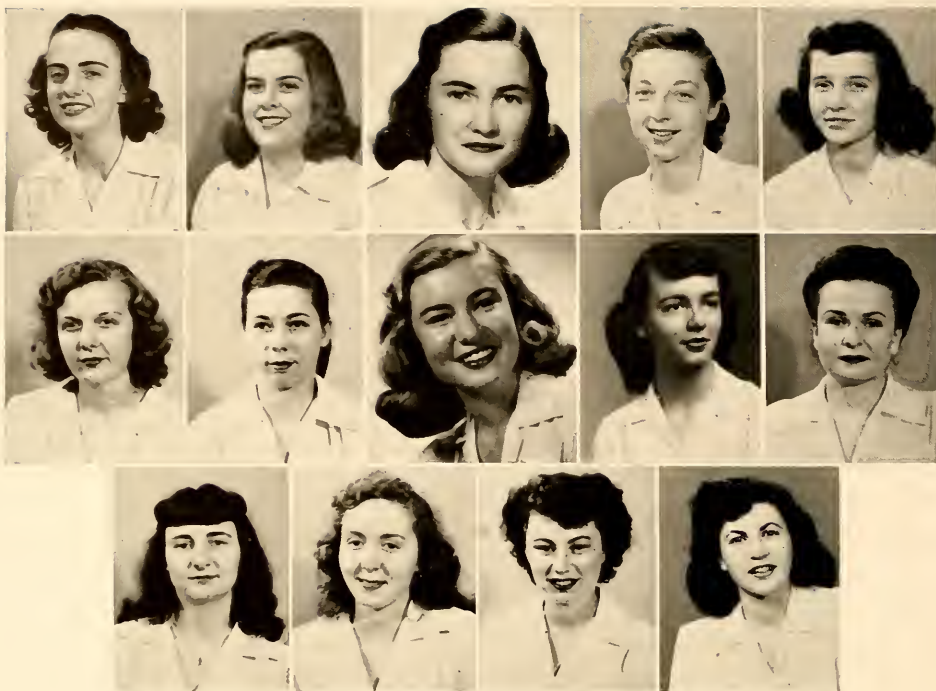

The future of the organization as an essential part of the University is very bright. Even though the quantity is small, the fine quality of the music is undisputed. With the rising interest in music, the group hopes to enlarge to at least eighty pieces. The welcome mat is out to anyone who can play a musical instrument.

The concert band is composed largely of the members in the marching band. In March, a concert was given for the students and faculty, and on April 8, the group gave the first annual formal spring concert.

Playing at commencement and other important school affairs is only part of their job. The larger part is that of promoting musical interest in the University.

Pan Hellenic Council has as its purpose maintaining good fraternal and inter-fraternal relations on the University campus. The Council cooperates with the school to help maintain high social and scholastic standards.

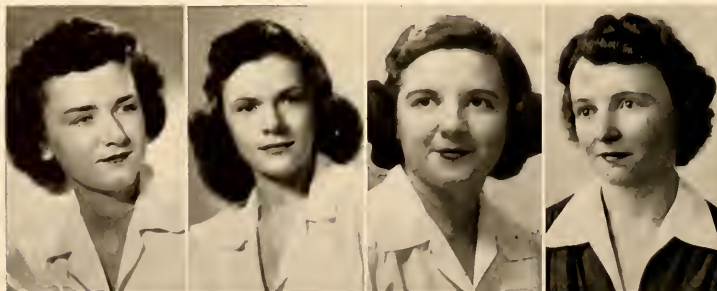

As soon as the first national sororities came to the University of Toledo, National Pan Hellenic Council was established here. Since then, the Council has been striving for a stronger organization.

This year has been very successful. In October, the Freshman women were welcomed onto the campus with a Sunday afternoon tea; at that time, they were informed of the sororities on campus and the rulings on Pan Hellenic, governing rushing and pledging. Soon after this, the council members honored Miss Kathryn Schwab, Dean of Women, and advisor to the group, with a reception in the Student Union, to which all students and faculty members were invited.

Rushing brought the usual tasks of Pan Hellenic Council. A fine Blue Book was compiled for the Freshman Women to aid in guiding them through the rushing period.

A national spirit was brought to the Council with the visit of Amy Burnham Onken, the Grand President of Pi Beta Phi, and a former President of National Pan Hellenic Council. At a tea given in her honor in the Pi Beta Phi apartment, Miss Onken expressed a desire for greater inter-fraternal cooperation on campus.

Alpha Chi Omega was founded in 1885 at DePauw University. On November 17, 1945, Alpha Tau Sigma was installed as the Beta Omega chapter at the University of Toledo.

Paints, brushes, and much hard work helped to redecorate the Alpha Chi's apartment. The rooms were beautifully done. Alpha Chi O's opened their newly decorated apartment to fraternity men and women so we all had a chance to see the results of their hard work. All kinds of costumes were present at the Halloween Masquerade Party. Alpha Chis had a hard time distinguishing their own members.

Christmas came and the sorority gals worked hard making rag dolls for the children of Poland. They were rewarded by a Christmas Formal where everyone had a terrific time. Spring was given an official welcome at the all-sorority spring formal. Mother nature and all her new glory was the main attraction at the picnic in May.

Alpha Chi Omega and activities go hand in hand to make a fine impression on the University of Toledo's campus. Jane McFillan is one of the select members of the math honorary. A Chi O's boast Mary Curtas, secretary of the Junior class and also of the Dramatic Association. Yes, the Alpha Chis are athletic too. Elaine Sunday and Jane Foulk were heads of sports in W.A.A. Elaine's time and work were responsible for the Pan-Hellenic Bluebook.

Climaxing the year was a colorful banquet in honor of the graduates. A wonderful and eventful year for the Alpha Chi O's came to a close with the ending of this school year.

Barnard College, Columbia University, was the scene of the founding of Alpha Omicron Pi Fraternity in 1897. On November 11, 1944, Phi Theta Psi was installed to represent Alpha Omicron Pi on this campus. To open their season of social events the A.O.Pi's tossed hay and shivered a little bit, too, on a hayride. October saw the gals in their fall bonnets when the A.O.Pi's were hostesses at their annual Nachtrieb Tea in honor of their former advisor. Witches, goblins and big black cats were seen floating around at the annual A.O.Pi Halloween Party for the orphans. The A.O.Pi's and the orphans had equally good times. The sororities and fraternities were invited to show their singing abilities at the A.O.Pi Christmas Carol Party. Carols were sung, cookies were eaten and everyone was in the spirit of Christmas.

Bread and water for dinner !!!! Bread and water it was for the team of A.O.Pi's with the lowest point average at the A.O.Pi Grades Dinner. The Smarties of the A.O.Pi's tortured the gloomy girls by downing a delicious steak dinner.

Mary Luetke, president of Peppers, was elected to Who's Who in Colleges and Universities. Co-chairman of the Thanksgiving dance was Nancy Penske and pretty Antoinette Pizza was the 1947 May Queen. Lois Zeigler, president of the A.O.Pi's, was active in W.A.A. and the Y.W.C.A.

The year ended all too soon and farewell was bid to all the senior class at the Senior Luncheon. An eventful year for the A.O.Pi's had come to a close.

When Chi Omega decided to install its 97th chapter at the University of Toledo on November 3, 1944, it became the first national sorority on campus. Chi Omega national sorority was founded at the University of Arkansas on April 5, 1895.

The wide participation in activities of the Chi Omega's was noticed everywhere on campus. Peppers, women's honorary, boasts both Karen Youngs and Phyllis Brown as members. Karen has also been on the Student Council for three years. Jane King has proved herself as a very capable secretary of the sophomore class. Phyllis Brown and Donna Rowe are members of Kappa Gamma, Alpha Phi Gamma claims Mary Jane Crothers, and Sararuth Bell belongs to Sigma Mu Tau. Everyone on campus knows Mary Jane Crothers with her women's sports column in the Collegian. Mary Jane did a fine job on Homecoming this fall. Jacqueline Kimble, nominated by the Chi Bets, attended the Glass Bowl Queen.

The Chi Omegas placed third with their Homecoming Float. Fraternities found out how much fun the Chi Omegas are at the all-fraternity carnival party. Following this, all sororities were honored at the third annual Fall Festival held at El Rancho on Thanksgiving night. After rushing, the new pledges were guests at the Baby Ball on April 9. Diapers and baby clothes were the dress at this affair. Fathers and daughters made hits and errors at a baseball party.

A very successful year for the Chi Omega's was closed with the Spring Formal, a luncheon for seniors and a party for alumni members.

Thanksgiving Eve, 1888, marked the founding of Delta Delta Delta in Boston, Massachusetts, and in November of 1944, Toledo University gained a Tri Delt chapter on its campus.

Social events swirled for the Tri Deltas this year. A back-to-school roast opened up the Tri Delt apartment for the year and a gala year it was. At the Annual Pine Party, the gals ate more and more Christmas goodies and the Christmas Formal ended the Tri Delt holiday festivities.

Activities girls, plus!!! Tri Deltas were evident in extra-curriculars over all the campus. Joanne Sullivan ruled as Pan Hellenic Council President and was chairman of the Women's Association Tea. Ginny Cramer, an honor society gal, headed softball this spring. Barb Schumm was secretary-treasurer of Peppers. Barb and Betty Gerken also served on Student Council. Freshman!! Did you notice your Freshman hand-book?? Joan Pross was co-chairman of editing that handy little item. Sounds like a lot already, but there was lots more.

LoRee Firestone served as co-chairman of the Homecoming Float parade.

Beauty predominates in the Delta Delta Deltas, for the Tri Deltas boast Celia Koontz who was crowned the Homecoming Queen of 1947. Annis Henry and Sally Swigart, Tri Deltas, served as members of her court. Pat Durling, zippy blond Delta, attended the Glass Bowl Queen.

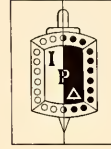

The year ended happily and successfully with the Senior Banquet where the Tri Deltas received the Annual Pine Patter Magazine. Yes, it was a fine year for Delta Delta Delta.

1948 has brought the Iota Rho Delta sorority to celebrate its second year on campus. Eight girls decided, on March 27, 1946, to become a group and so founded Iota Rho Delta. The sorority was formally recognized by the student council and Pan-Hellenic council in May, 1946. These girls chose for their flower a gardenia with colors of red and white to go with it. The advisor of this new sorority is Mrs. Edward Lorenz.

A "house party" opened the social events for the Iota Rho Deltas. Flashy pajamas accompanied the girls as they sat around the fire knitting and having gab sessions. With the spirit of Christmas the girls played Santa to the poor families in Toledo by giving them baskets and clothes. Spring was ushered in with a dance at which the girls and their dates had a gay time. In March, the Iota Rho Deltas were one year older. The second annual Founders' Day was celebrated with a banquet.

During the vacations a party was given to the children at the Opportunity Home. Games were played and ice cream and cake were eaten. Yum! No telling who had the most fun, the children or the sorority girls. Mitzi Chasin, one of Iota Rho Delta's outstanding juniors, served as the first president of the group. She also made a pretty attendant last year for the May Queen.

Kappa Delta sorority was founded at the State Normal College of Virginia in 1897. In April, 1946, Beta Nu became the seventieth chapter of the fraternity at Toledo University.

Hot dogs, mustard, and loads of fun were the orders of the day when the Kappa Deltas were hostesses at a roast on the Island for Alpha Phi Omega and Kappa Iota Chi. The Kappa Deltas celebrated the 50th anniversary of the founding of the fraternity on October 23, with a reception for faculty and friends. The province president visited the Toledo chapter and a lovely supper meeting honored the guest. A banquet for seniors and the Kappa Delta Spring Formal were annual get-togethers which the girls looked forward to all year long. The pledge class entertained the faculty with a novel "Apple Polishing Tea". The Kappa Deltas wound up the year with a Hill Billy Dance including old clothes, old jokes, old music and plenty of laughs.

Alert and industrious, the Kappa Deltas hold offices in many organizations. Gloria Moore, K. D. Secretary, also penned for Sigma Delta Pi. Phyllis Nowowiejski acted as president to Sigma Mu Tau, the honorary medical organization for women, and Carolyn Eyster was one more busy, busy K.D. She was Vice-President of the Biological Society, President of Pi Gamma Mu, Secretary of Sigma Mu Tau, and we thought we'd better mention that Carolyn was tapped for Peppers this year.

All this activity, business and fun made for a happy year for Kappa Delta, 50 years old in 1947.

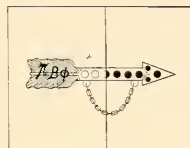

Pioneer among national fraternities, Pi Beta Phi was founded on April 28, 1867 at Monmouth, Ill. In March, 1945 dreams of Toledo University Pi Delta Chi girls came true when the Pi Beta Phi "charter granted" message was received.

Pi Phis started the school year with an all-sorority tea in the Student Union. Stuffed with cookies and cakes, the girls forgot their grievances for the afternoon. Bonnie Kitzman did a bang-up job on the annual Backwards Dance—"Nautical, but Nice". Fish nets, life savers, box lunches, and BOYS with lovely vegetable corsages made for a terrific evening of fun. The veterans were not forgotten at Christmas time. Each Pi Phi packed a box, post-marked Percy Jones Hospital.

Three cheers for Betty Martin Smith and Peg Tomlinson, both Pi Phis, who have edited the Collegian and the Blockhouse, respectively. Donna Coy gained the female lead in "Three Men on a Horse". Pi Phis are active in all phases of campus life. Ginny Andrews, Nancy Butler and Joanne Birkenkamp all heads of sports in W.A.A. Margery Garrett was co-chairman of Homecoming Coronation. Ruth Gogel was Proof Editor of the Collegian and Marianne Chambers, Society Editor. Trophies, beauty and Peppers! !!! Pi Beta Phi has plenty of all three. The swimming, basketball, and athletic participation trophies brighten their apartment as does the Song Fest trophy.

Pretty Peg Bartholomew was in the Glass Bowl court. Barbara Heesen, married now, and Peg Tomlinson were Pi Phis in the Homecoming court. The annual Senior Breakfast ended a wonderful year for the Pi Phis.

Seventeen years ago Sigma Pi Delta sorority was organized on the University of Toledo campus. The flower is the Violet which represents quiet but beauty in its simplicity.

Plenty of hot dogs, donuts and cider helped Sigma Pi Delta to a rip-roaring year of activities. Their Halloween roast was a huge success and everyone said they were really full. Tea and crumpets for Mrs. Stafford, Sigma Pi Delta Advisor. A lovely tea was held in her honor in the home of Phyllis Damond. Food again??? Sigma Pi Deltas progressed to a supper dinner for their Christmas party. It was mighty cold at that January hayride but the gals had so much fun. Spring was climaxed with a dance for all the members.

Ruling Sigma Pi Delta was Helen Axelrod. Sigma Pi Deltas are proud of her being a member of the National History honorary, and a Spanish honorary member. Deena Bergher was Pan Hellenic Council Representative. Gertrude Perlmutter is a member of the honor society. Harriet Klatzel kept the books for Sigma Pi Delta. She seemed to like the position of Treasurer for she helped the Pan American League with their budget also. Harriet belonged to the Spanish Honorary and the Educational honorary. Huhmmmmmmmm—all these honoraries. Yes, the Sigma Pi Deltas have some smart gals. This small group won the Scholarship trophy in 1947 for top grades.

A Senior farewell was held in June. The purple and gold, colors of Sigma Pi Delta, could still be proud of their wearers.

The first national sorority to be chartered in the State of Virginia was Zeta Tau Alpha. November 15, 1946, the installation of Tau Delta Sigma brought Zeta Tau Alpha to our campus.

"I'll bid two clubs" was heard frequently in September when the Zetas started the year with a bridge party. The winning float, "The Rockets Will Reign Over Akron", was a product of the Zetas and what a celebration after the winner was announced. The float was a gold castle with knights and football players dressed in armour and shoulder pads respectively. The idea for the float originated with a Zeta song, "Zeta Castle". Thanksgiving and Christmas dances were both highlights of the year. New pledges were guests of the first dance which was a big success.

Zetas were seen in activities all over campus. Carol Granthen was co-chairman of the Sophomore Prom. All the Zetas turned out for this affair. Pat Tolford was Vice President of the Sophomore class. She did a fine job, too. Dorothy MacKenzie was senior class representative to Student Council. Zetas are proud of their Betty Smith Proschek who was the national president of the American Home Economics Association. These members brought much renown to their group.

An all-sorority Spring Formal ended the year's festivities for the Zetas. All Zetas agreed they had worked hard but had loads of fun.

To Inter-Fraternity Council goes the job of formulating rules and principles to govern and guide the fraternities on this campus.

The year's activities were initiated with a stag smoker in the Union at which time freshmen men became acquainted with the members of the various organizations.

The annual stag banquet was held in April with a large number of fraternity men attending. President Wilbur W. White and Dean Donald Parks were the honored guests. Fraternity advisors were also present.

May brought the Inter-Fraternity Spring Formal which is held in honor of the fraternity pledges. This year's dance was a huge success, having the greatest attendance of an Inter-Fraternity Dance as yet.

Throughout the year the Council guided the Inter-Fraternity sports program. All fraternities participated in eight sports. A trophy was awarded the group with the highest aggregate of points earned in competition.

Alpha Phi Omega celebrated its 26th anniversary on campus last fall, then swooped into one of its most important years in its history.

After having pledged the largest class in 1946, the '47-'48 pledge class was almost as big, the active chapter picking 38 men out of Toledo's huge freshman and lower class group.

Early in the fall, the Alpha Phis moved from their former home to a newly-purchased residence. This house made the Alpha Phis the third fraternity on campus to acquire a house.

The Alpha Phi Christmas formal, event of the winter season, took place in the Secor Hotel, with both actives and the new pledges attending. Besides frequent stag parties, open houses occupied many of the early nights at the new house.

During the Christmas season the Alpha Phis gave a party for children from St. Anthony's Orphanage, and later, a caroling journey through West Toledo.

Giving parties for other fraternities was something long missing on campus, but the Alpha Phis began a series of smokers for other fraternities by having Sigma Beta Phi and Chi Rho Nu as guests in February. Alpha Sigma Phi and Chi Beta Chi attended a party in March.

The chief events of the spring season were three annual affairs in which the Alpha Phis entered strongly. The spring formal took place in April, along with the Tri-Ad dance, and the Bowery Ball.

September found the Alpha Sigs returning from a summer spent at Fraternity Cottage with a good coat of tan and a full load of Arx men with Dick Villwock, Dick Balsmeyer, and Kirk Yarman.

The Fraternity Social Chairman, Bob Brady, managed to provide us with our celebrated Apache party in November, a Christmas Formal in December and a Spring Formal in May, on top of a stag and a Date affair each month and Theatre parties on occasions. In March a "Spring Breeze" dance was held celebrating the end of winter and several months of moderate inactivity due to circumstances beyond our control.

The School Christmas Formal was marked by the admission of two more of our men to Arx: John Jones and Joe Koch.

Many intra-chapter functions were held among which were Toboggan parties held at Angola, Indiana with our Tri-State University Chapter and a weekend spent at Ohio Northern University helping our Chapter there celebrate its re-institution. Many of the brothers attended dances at the University of Michigan as guests of our Theta Chapter.

June came and the end of school found the brethren honoring our departing Seniors at the traditional luncheon and leaving again for the cottage.

Chi Beta Chi started its year by moving into its new fraternity house on Winthrop Street. Most of the fellow's time until Christmas was used in redecorating parts of the house and holding a rush program. With the acquisition of 26 pledges, the Chi Bets launched their social program. The first big affair of the year was the Christmas Formal. Chi Beta Chi inaugurated several plans this year. Heading the list is the 'Sweetheart of the Month'. Each month the men serenade the sororities and from one of them select a Sweetheart. The "lucky" girl is the guest of the fraternity at each social function throughout the month. Another was the attempt to establish good feeling between this campus and Bowling Green State University. The Chi Bets entertained representatives of 11 B. G. sororities at a supper prior to the Rocket-Falcon basketball game.

The traditional Sorority Tea Dances were resumed and each group was honored at least once by a party at the Chi Beta Chi House. The pledges, not to be outdone, staged a highly successful renewal of the Annual Inter-Fraternity All-Pledge Dance.

Climaxing an unusual year, the Chi Bets held their annual Spring Formal at Catawba Cliffs.

The boys opened the new year with the traditional Back-To-School dance which served as a reminder that school was now in session. During the football season, many informal activities were held and enjoyed by the group as a whole. The fall rushing season was climaxed by the acquisition of a fine group of men. Parties and smokers made up the rushing program.

The Christmas Formal was held at the Secor Hotel in December and enjoyed by actives and pledges alike. January found the fellows putting aside the social life to concentrate on the academic.

February was passed in style with the 27th annual Founders Day Dance, held at the Carranor Hunt and Polo Club. The traditional Heifer dance was held in April along with Hell Week for the new actives of the Fraternity.

The athletic program of the frat was well planned and at this time of the year, the men were ahead in the Inter-Frat Trophy Race. The Intra-Mural Football race was split with the Sig Bets.

The highlight of the year was the annual Spring Formal in May which together with the frat picnic helped bring a good year to a successful conclusion.

In its second year on the campus, Beta Xi Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity continued that wonderful march of conquest. Starting the 1947-48 school year the fraternity held its annual Thanksgiving party in November and two smokers in December, one for the Brothers and one for the freshmen and upper classmen.

The New Year was started off with a bang with our Founder's Day Program in January and a series of Sunday afternoon forums that were given each month. The presidents or outstanding leaders of various other fraternities and sororities appeared as guest speakers for these meetings.

Out sixth annual initiation, banquet, chapel service and reception was held in April. The chapter also observed its sixth annual Guide Right Week in April by offering guidance services, along with its counseling, to the high school seniors. Guide Right is Kappa Alpha Psi's principal public service program.

Kappa Alpha Psi was built upon the idea of ACHIEVEMENT. It strives to unite large numbers of men in various places, vocations, and station of life, having in common some similar experience, tastes and ideals, into one great fraternal bond. It further strives to make permanent and perpetual college friendships which cheer and illumine the life of members through all of their future years.

The whole secret of our chapter, Beta Xi, rests upon our proper recognition of the principles of capable leadership and enthusiastic team-work.

For twenty-five years, Kappa Iota Chi has been an ardent supporter of campus activities. Our Silver Anniversary activities began with the "Autumn Nocturne Dance" held in the Student Union. Three rush affairs were given during October and November. Actives, alumni, and rushees gathered at a smoker, a "Rushee Romp" dance and a scavenger hunt. Most successful of the year was the annual winter formal given in December at the Secor Hotel. January opened with the pledge chapter entertaining the actives which was an evening of merriment, called the "Kixkopades". The affair for February, a skating party, provided the usual spills and thrills at a joint meeting of actives and alumni. Irving Igdaloff took over the position of Noble Grand in the middle of the year. Founder's Day was celebrated by a banquet given at the Northwood Inn. At this time, the pledges were formally initiated into the fraternity. Climaxing the year's social activities was "The Silver Jubilee", a dance held in the Maumee River Yacht Club.

Kappa Iota Chi, always striving to promote better fraternal spirit, has taken an active part in all inter-fraternity sports. Kappa Iota Chi, as in the past, will keep striving toward its goal—scholarship and brotherhood among all the fraternities and organizations on the campus.

As the fall season and college days again drew near, Lambda Chi began making plans for another great year. The news of winning the Inter-Fraternity scholarship trophy for the second consecutive time was gratifying. A back-to-school roast started the semester off with a bang, and immediately the boys began to work hard on a float for the homecoming parade.

Then the rushing period began, and after three "bang-up" rush parties, a fine pledge class took over their duties as publishers of the fraternity's monthly paper. The annual Alumni New Year's Eve party highlighted the holiday season, and then everyone took a breather until exams were completed.

The second semester was greeted with a skating party, and then a stag which left nothing to be desired. The pledge dance, with its all-pledge floor show, and College Night were the leading affairs of the early spring season. The 24th annual Founder's Day Banquet, at which next year's officer's were installed, was the most significant event in May. Several informal affairs carried the calendar up to June, when the semester was climaxed by the outstanding social function of the year, the Spring Formal, at the Yacht Club, which was a huge success.

The school year of 1947-48 has been one of the most eventful in the history of Phi Kappa Chi.

This year the Phi Kaps purchased a house for use as their fraternity. Under the able leadership of David Hardy and with the guidance and supervision of Mr. Frank Kerschot (housefather) the active chapter completely remodeled and redecored the dwelling.

A spirited campaign for the election of Homecoming Queen resulted in victory for the group, when the Phi Kap's candidate, Miss Celia Koontz, was elected on a write-in ballot.

The social year was inaugurated with a party in the fraternity house following the Great Lakes football game. There was the usual fall stags and parties that go along with college life. The most gala event was the 31st annual Christmas Formal held at the Maumee River Yacht Club. In April, the pledges were turned active with the usual parties. May found the Phi Kaps planning for their Spring Formal, which was the climax of the years activities. During the year, many informal get-togethers were held in honor of the sororities and fraternities, especially the all-pledge smoker held in April that was attended by all the frats in force.

Pi Rho Sigma had its first big event of the school year in the form of its annual Halloween Masquerade Ball.

The University's Homecoming events brought excitement and enthusiasm to the group. Efforts were turned toward constructing the float and toward campaigning for Annis Henry, the candidate sponsored for Homecoming Queen.

The Fraternity flower, a white carnation, was worn by all members on November 10, their Founder's Day. That evening the Founder's Day ceremonies were held—just three years ago on this day the Fraternity was formed.

A highly successful rush period was climaxed by a Barn Dance and Barbecue. Through these efforts the men took in the largest pledge class in its history. Numerous parties with both pledges and actives attending were held. An informal dance was held on the evening of the Glass Bowl Game.

The Christmas spirit was emphasized by a gaily decorated Christmas tree in the hall. Holiday activities included a theater party and a caroling party. During vacation an informal dance in the Student Union Lounge was held, followed by swimming at the Central Y.M.C.A.

The second semester brought many required constructive tasks for the pledges. After the carefully-planned program was completed, the pledges were turned active in the spring. The close of the school year brought the third annual Commencement Ball honoring the Fraternity's graduating seniors.

The fraternity began its year's activities with a traditional back to school dance. The house was given a once over and found ready for occupancy. The men began their social year with many open houses before and after the football games. The first annual Winter Frolic was held at the naval armory and was well attended by activities and alumni alike. The rushing season brought a large pledge class to help the actives continue their fraternity policies.

Christmas vacation brought the Xmas formal that was held at the Commodore Perry and was a suiting climax to the vacation.

Athletics played a prominent part in the year's activities of the fraternity with the boys well up in the scoring race for the Participation Trophy.

Second semester was heralded by an after-exam party for the pledges and actives. The many holidays throughout February and March laid the groundwork for many fine stags and date affairs. April brought Hell-Week and the pledges were dressed in full regalia and turned actives.

The fraternity's Spring Formal, held at the Maumee River Yacht Club, was the climax of a year's work and play.

All in all, the fraternity had a full year in all phases of their fraternity life.

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

Under the guiding hand of David V. Connelly, Athletic Director, the destinies of Rocket athletics were supervised through the 1947-48 season. This year will complete Connelly's twenty-first year in the Athletic Department. Seeing our institution progress, it has always been his aim to bring athletics and physical education to the highest plane possible.

Rocket teams enjoyed success on both the gridiron and basketball floor. The Blue and Gold gridders ran up the enviable record of nine wins and two defeats. Their season was climaxed with a thrilling victory over the University of New Hampshire in the second annual Glass Bowl game.

This was Coach Orwig's second season. His team was not only the most powerful, but the most successful the University ever produced. The record of nine wins had never before been approached by a Rocket team. His popularity in Toledo attracted many of the city's finest high school gridders. A great number enrolled here instead of leaving the city for their education.

Jerry Bush, a professional basketball star of the first magnitude, was appointed coach of the University's team, to the unanimous accord of everyone. The team itself was happiest about Jerry's new job. He went on to give a tremendous performance in his first venture of college coaching and a great future is in store for Coach Bush.

TOLEDO 41 CASE 0

With more than 10,000 fans looking on, the Rockets Rolled up another convincing victory in the Glass Bowl. The game was played on a gloomy Sunday afternoon due to a power failure in the lighting system the previous night. In the first period, Ed Podbielniak started the afternoon off right by scoring from the four-yard line. John Shutt, the usually able placekicker, missed the conversion. Early in the second quarter, Dick Huston rambled 48 yards for six points. A few minutes later Huston raced 30 yards for another tally. Wandtke gave Toledo a 21-0 lead at half time when he fell on a stray lateral behind the Scientists' goal line. In the third stanza after Captain Wolodzko moved the ball to the Case 48, Huston shot through tackle and sped the distance for the touchdown. Toledo's fifth touchdown was scored by Wandtke when he cracked over from the three yard stripe. Podbielniak concluded the scoring for the day late in the third period when he intercepted a Case aerial on the Scientist 22 and scored untouched. Shutt made good on the extra point which gave him a total of three for six for the day.

The Rocket gridders opened their season by employing every member on the squad in downing the once-powerful Sailors of Great Lakes. Toledo scored their first touchdown in the second quarter when John Ehrsam passed to Chuch Hardy in the end zone. John Shutt started his place-kicking campaign with a good boot. The Rockets tallied twice more before the half on scoring drives of 76 and 84 yards. Emerson Cole climaxed the first one by going over from the five yard marker and Lee Pete scored the latter on a quarterback sneak. In the third period the Rockets scored another touchdown when Jimmy Foltz crashed across from the five. Early in the fourth quarter, Pete heaved a 36-yard aerial to Bill Gall for a touchdown. Toledo made its final tally in the closing minutes when Dick Wandtke passed to Bernie Lutz in the end zone.

Listed as underdogs and hampered by many injuries the Rockets traveled to Dayton to battle Coach Joe Gavin's unbeaten Flyers. In the first half the Dayton gridders completely dominated play by scoring twice and holding the Rockets in their own territory. However the Rockets were not to be denied, and in the second half they came back to turn in a masterful performance. After Dayton's fullback Janaszek scored a touchdown in the first stanza and End Dick Dahn grabbed an aerial for another score in the second period the Rocket eleven withstood repeated Flyer drives the remainder of the contest.

In the third quarter the Toledoans finally caught fire when Dick Huston intercepted one of Ed Tosconi's short passes on the 50 and sped through the entire Dayton team to score. John Shutt kicked a perfect placement. Late in fourth period the Rockets began a drive from their own 17 which resulted in the winning points. The drive was climaxed when Lee Pete threw a beautiful aerial to the swift Huston. Huey caught the pigskin on the Dayton 33 and rambled across the goal. Once again Shutt calmly kicked the point which sealed the upset. Both teams produced terrific line play with Mike Carman getting the nod as the outstanding lineman on the field.

JOHN CARROL 35 TOLEDO 14

Several hundred Carrol fans followed their team here and they didn't go back to Cleveland disappointed. With Bob Kilfoyle completing 19 out of 25 passes the Blue Streaks stunned the Rockets with a defeat that will long be remembered. Early in the first period the Clevelanders moved 75 yards for a touchdown. The drive was concluded when Kilfoyle tossed to Len Soeder from four yards out. Carrol made it 14 to 0 in the second frame when Carl Taseff scored from the Toledo 21 on a sprint through the middle of the Rocket team. Toledo got back in the ballgame when Dick Huston concluded a 72 drive by racing 18 yards over the right side of the Blue Streak line. John Shutt kicked the extra point which ended the scoring for the first half. Carrol continued to pour it on in the third quarter when they went from their own 23 for a touchdown. Kilfoyle erased the last nine yards by passing to Moran. Twice more in the final period the visitors tallied. Kilfoyle passed to Soeder and Taseff for the touchdowns. Kilfoyle kicked the extra points which gave him five for five during the game. Toledo's final tally came as a result of a pass from John Ehram to Dave Hamlar who galloped 65 yards to paydirt. Shutt added the conversion.

TOLEDO 21 YOUNGSTOWN 7

Smarting from that John Carrol setback the previous week, Bill Orwig's charges upset the favored Penguins before more than 10,000 fans. After recovering a Rocket fumble in the first period, the Penguins went 94 yards for a touchdown. In the second quarter the Rockets started to move. With Captain Tony Wolodzko tearing off most of the yardage, the ball was moved to the Youngstown four from where Emerson Cole ripped across the goal. John Shutt converted and the score remained even until the final frame. At this point Toledo exploded for two quick touchdowns to sew up the victory. Cole tallied his second six pointer when he rammed over from the three. Shutt converted. The Rockets tallied a few minutes later after George Miley intercepted one of Bob Gibson's aerals and raced it back to the visitors 21. Miley then smashed to the one and Wandtke carried it across. Shutt concluded the scoring by toeing the extra point.

TOLEDO 14 BALDWIN-WALLACE 6

With another capacity crowd looking on, the Rockets overcame an early deficit to hand Baldwin-Wallace a one touchdown defeat. The second time the Yellow Jackets got their hands on the pigskin they marched 37 yards for a score. Lee Tressel gained most of the yardage in the drive but Jim Kelly went around his own left end for the tally. The attempted conversion was wide. A drive that was started by the Rockets in the early part of the second period nearly paid off but a fumble on the B-W 3 halted the effort. Then after the Yellow Jackets punted, the Rockets scored on one of those Lee Pete aerials. With the ball on the Toledo 32, Pete flipped a beautiful pass to Mardo Hamilton who caught the ball on the 12 and went over. John Shutt kicked the conversion. Near the end of the third quarter the Rockets scored again when Pete tossed to Dave Hamlar in the end zone. Shutt split the uprights for the extra point.

TOLEDO 7 WAYNE 0

On a cold, windswept afternoon in early November, the University of Toledo gridders met a determined Wayne University football team in Detroit and barely managed to squeeze out a victory. The only score of the game was manufactured in the first three minutes of the first period by the Rockets. After getting the ball on the Tartar 38, the Rockets, aided by the running of Jimmy Foltz, Dave Hamlar, and Tony Wolodzko, moved the pigskin to the 14. At this point the officials caught the Wayne forwards holding and the ball was moved to the one yard line. Lee Pete went over on a quarterback sneak. John Shutt kicked the extra point. Although the Tartar's gained more yardage on the ground than the Rockets, they failed to penetrate the Toledo 20 yard marker.

Hamlar and Gall gaze at a cake presented to the team for their fine performances.

TOLEDO 38 AKRON 7

The Rockets made their Homecoming celebration a joyful one by completely routing the Akron University Zippers before a capacity crowd in the Glass Bowl. Toledo made themselves right at home at the game's outset when they marched 70 yards for a touchdown after taking the opening kickoff. Dave Hamlar plunged over from the one to make the score. The Rockets tallied again in the first quarter when Lee Pete threw a 45 yard pass to Hamlar in the end zone. Late in the second frame a score by Dick Ehrhardt and a conversion by John Shutt made it 19-0 at the half.

Akron made their only score in the third period when Schuggs took a short pass from Buhas. Dorbin converted for the Zippers. Later in the period Dick Huston scored the Rockets fourth touchdown when he broke away for a 32 yard jaunt. Orwig's crew counted twice in the final frame when Pete tossed an aerial to Chuck Hardy from the Rocket 30 and on an off tackle dashed by Huston which covered 10 yards.

TOLEDO 20 NEW HAMPSHIRE 14

On a cool, but sunny afternoon in early December, 13,500 spectators watched the University of Toledo participate in the second annual Glass Bowl game by defeating a previously unbeaten, untied New Hampshire team in a thrilling struggle. Although the Rockets were superior in almost every department of play, the issue was in doubt until the final gun.

Shortly after receiving the opening kickoff the Rockets had their first touchdown of the afternoon. A series of running and passing plays advanced the ball to the visitors 10 and Dick Huston, who was voted the outstanding performer of the classic, cut over right tackle and slid across the goal line for the tally. John Shutt added the conversion. Midway in the period New Hampshire moved the pigskin to the Toledo three but the charging Rocket forwards smacked the Wildcats back to the 16. Early in the second quarter the Rockets scored again. Aided by a 15 yard penalty, the ball was moved to the invaders 27. Huston then made the most spectacular run of the day when he eluded at least six N. H. tacklers to score. Shutt kicked the extra point and Toledo led, 14-0, at the half.

In the third stanza the Wildcats finally hit paydirt when Bruce Mather connected on a long aerial to Bob Mikszenas. He caught the ball on the Toledo 47 and scampered the remaining distance untouched. "Automatic George" Kachzvos booted the extra point. In the fourth quarter the Rockets hammered out another touchdown. This drive covered 56 yards and was concluded when Dick Ehrhardt rammed over from the one yard stripe. Shutt misfired on the try for the extra point. Undaunted, New Hampshire roared right back and almost pulled the game out of the fire. Carmen Ragonese started things rolling when he shook loose for a 36-yard touchdown jaunt. Kachavos converted and the Cats were only six points behind. A few minutes later John Pritchard returned a punt to the Toledo 31 but an interception by Mike Carman ended the threat and victory was preserved.

Toledo-South Dakota

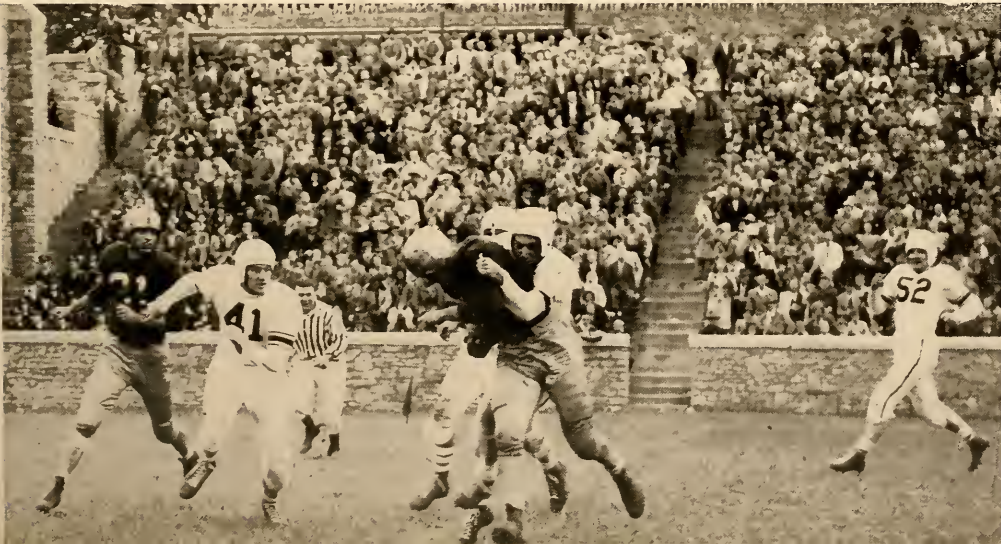

TOLEDO 33 SOUTH DAKOTA 12

Showing superiority in all departments the Rockets played the part of very impolite hosts by routing the visiting Jackrabbits in a drizzling rain. The local collegians led throughout the contest and never were in serious trouble of losing the lead. In the opening quarter, Lee Pete fired a long pass to Ken Ramsdell for the first touchdown and Dave Hamlar scored from the five yard line for another. Ted Zuchowski recovered a fumble on the S. D. 36 which led to the third score of the evening for the Rockets. Pete carried it over from the one yard line. John Shutt made two out of three tries for extra points and it was 20-0, Toledo, at the half. South Dakota scored both of their touchdowns in the third period against the reserves. Wayne Skaggs made both of their tallys on short runs. The Toledo regulars played the last quarter and pushed across two more touchdowns. George Miley climaxed a 71 yard drive by smashing over from the two. Another one of those Pete-Hardy passes resulted in the last tally of the game.

CANISIUS 21 TOLEDO 13

The Rockets closed their regular season by traveling to Buffalo, N. Y. for an engagement with Canisius College. Although Toledo had a slight edge in statistics they lost a hard fought battle to the Griffens before a small crowd in Civic Stadium. The Rockets tallied first in the opening quarter when Lee Pete unloaded a 55 heave to Dave Hamlar. He caught the ball on the Canisius 42 and raced the rest of the distance for the touchdown. John Shutt converted. The Griffens came right back to tie the score. Kwasek took the kickoff and returned it 87 yards for a touchdown. Willis then kicked the extra point. The New Yorkers scored again in the second period when Breen grabbed a fumble by Kwasek in mid-air and fell in the end zone for the tally. Willis converted. Just before the half, Pete passed to Hardy for a touchdown from the Griffen 40. Shutt missed the point after touchdown.

In the second half the Rockets outplayed their rivals but they couldn't get the pigskin across the goal line. Late in the fourth period, Canisius tallied after driving 41 yards in a series of plays. Kwasek made the touchdown on an end run. Willis booted his third extra point of the game which ended the scoring for the day.

A new coach, plus a veteran team, provided the combination that made the 1947-1948 University of Toledo basketball team perhaps the strongest in the history of the school. It fell short of national honors by the slight margin of four points by which it lost to their down-state rivals, the Falcons of Bowling Green State University.

One need only look at the envious record compiled by the Rockets to see just how well Jerry Bush did his job. The team won 21 games and lost five, against some of the stiffest opposition available. The University scored 1541 to its opponents' 1131 points, for a 59 to 43 average game scored. Toledo finished 21st in the United States, defensively, and just about that high offensively.

Dal Zuber and Charley Harmon, probably the two outstanding players on the team, were the one-two punch that gave Toledo 548 of those points. Dal, using his brilliant, drive-in, underhand shots along with his deadly, long set-shot ability, scored 322 for a 13.4 average in 22 games. While Harmon's lithe frame contorted its way to 226 counters.

A sensational newcomer, Carlo Muzi, fought his way into the starting Rocket lineup, amazing the fans with startling one-hand push shots and incredible ability to steal the ball and slip in for easy layups.

This young freshman, Carlo Muzi, an Akron boy, scored 211 points, although not playing regularly in the early season. Len Rhodes, the center with the biggest hands seen in Toledo in many years, had a great season, as a sophomore pivot-man for the Rockets. Len contributed 196 points to the Toledo cause, and was a huge asset in controlling the backboards with Harmon.

George Bush, brother of Jerry, a far more steady, experienced player as a sophomore, was the chief reason for victory in several closely-contested battles. His set shots counted for most of his 189 points.

Another of the regulars on whom much of the burden went was Johnny Kartholl, a great defensive player and fine shot. Johnny received the acclaim of writers and players alike for his cool teamwork, was named the team's most valuable player by the squad itself.

B.G. GAME

February 28 found the brilliant Bowling Green outfit, led by ex-Rocket coach Harold Anderson, invading Toledo, with a national tournament bid hanging in the balance. This game with Toledo's traditional Ohio rivals established new friendly relations between the schools, with a home-and-home series set for 1949.

The Falcons were rated the edge over the Rockets, having played and defeated more prominent schools than those Toledo had faced.

However, the decision was in doubt throughout the entire contest.

Charley Share, towering B-G center, was the deciding factor. Standing several inches taller than the biggest Toledo players, Share was constantly tipping in rebounds.

The Toledo shooting was much more accurate, but with the score tied at 38-38, B-G managed to slip in two field goals, then stall the rest of the way.

Bowling Green beat Toledo, 42-38, but in doing so, had to call on every bit of its superior height to do so, with the score being 38-38 with two minutes of play remaining. B-G was held to its lowest score of the year by Toledo, using an unfamiliar zone defense to near-perfection against the rangy Falcons.

Charley Harmon, Dal Zuber, George Bush, Carlo Muzi, and Len Rhodes all contributed wonderful play in that last supreme effort of the year. The fact that they'll all be back again this winter gave most of Toledo's fans ample reason to look forward to an even greater season than the '47-'48 one.

Peace Pipe

Cal Christensen, only native Toledoan on the team, proved to be an able center, and chipped in with 100 points for the Toledo cause. Other substitutes who saw much action throughout the season were Mike Bicanic and Don Hire, in their last year, playing capably; Paul (Sparkplug) Wallace, and two good set shots, John Beglin and Dick Werner.

The Rockets started off the year with a rush, winning nine straight games, before meeting defeat. They rolled over schools like Cedarville, Assumption, Bluffton, Kalamazoo, Defiance, Springfield, Mass., a strong Western Michigan team, St. Francis and Cornell.

Toledo proved its potentialities by beating the good St. Francis team in Madison Square Garden. Drubbing Cornell, one of the eastern Ivy League's best, by a big score, established Bush's team as an outstanding one.

Finally, however, the long victory string came to an end when Seton Hall of New Jersey, boasting a powerful, tall squad, dumped Toledo in a close, thrilling game. The next game found Michigan, champions of the Big Ten and one of the nation's best, clipping the Rockets by a small margin.

Toledo followed this loss by a win at Baldwin-Wallace, then found the absence of Dal Zuber too much, the next night. Zuber, out with a bad ankle, watched from the sidelines as Akron won going away after Harmon fouled out.

Loyola of Chicago, outstanding mid-west independent, traded wins with Toledo, both teams losing on their home floors. From then on, it was easy sailing for the Rockets, over Baldwin-Wallace again, Dayton twice, Wayne twice, Akron again, and Canisius of Buffalo.

SPRING SPORTS

The University's spring sports got underway in successful fashion, its team studded with veterans. Men like Jack Mahnen, pitcher; Lee Pete, outfield; Bob Ross, first base; Dick Huston, outfield; and Dick Bayer, pitcher, were starting the baseball team to a betterthan-average season.

Early season victories for the baseball squad came over schools like Heidelberg and Bluffton. The southpaw slants of Mahnen, and Bayer's hurling aided the Rockets to these early-season wins.

Jack Smith's track squad, although somewhat handicapped by a small turnout, still managed to give a good account of itself in early meets.

Alvin B. Glaser, political science instructor, was appointed tennis coach in March. Mr. Glaser has several returning lettermen, including John Stoeckley, Carl Thaller, Seavey Bailey, and several outstanding prospects.

Tennis was greatly impeded by bad weather, but the team used every possible day to polish its game.

Calvin Sing and Carl Thaller wait for the match to begin.

Bud Bailey proudly displays one of the tennis teams trophies as Dave Connelly and Maurrie Losh look on.

With John Phillips, Don Kennedy, Doc Pawlicki, and Bill Holmes all returning, prospects were exceptionally bright for the golf team.

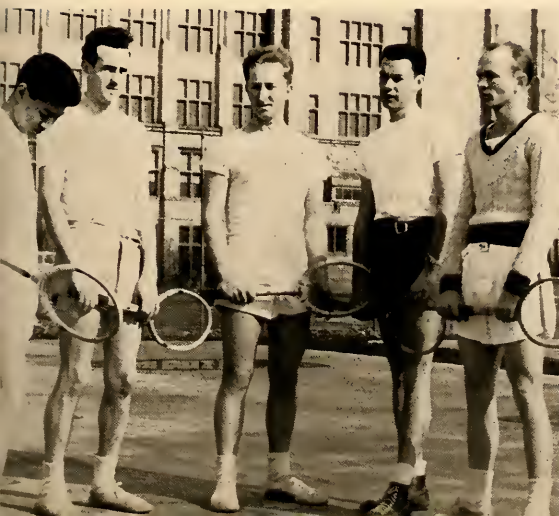

Jerry Bush, head basketball coach, took over the reins as golf coach. He added Jerry Dixon, Bill Longthorne, Bud Anteneau, and Tom Meek to his lineup, finding the competition fierce among the candidates.

The football squad, finding itself temporarily without a head coach after the resignation of James William (Bill) Orwig, who took a line coaching position at the University of Michigan, nevertheless still managed to go through its training period in spirited fashion.

Assistant grid coaches Warren Schmakel, Gene Stauber, and Bill Beach did an admirable job of handling the 50-odd candidates who turned out for spring practice. Everybody concerned worked hard, preparing for the rugged 1948 football schedule.

Sigma Beta Phi fraternity seemed headed for its second consecutive year as Inter-Fraternity champions, after piling up a huge point total gained in fall and winter sports, and it appeared a cinch to show strong in softball, golf, and tennis, the only uncompleted sports.

The Sig Bets tied Chi Rho Nu for first place in the football league, finished second in volleyball, and tied Phi Kappa Chi for the basketball trophy.

Greatest domination for the Sig Bets came in swimming, however, as their team completely outclassed the rest of the field.

Chi Rho Nu loomed as a threat, after winning the volleyball crown. After an absence during the war, volleyball returned as a major sport, and was renewed with much enthusiasm.

Alpha Phi Omega took one of the few undisputed crowns, winning the bowling title by one game from Alpha Sigma Phi.

Phi Kappa Chi, finishing well up in most sports, took the first half of the golf tournament, played in the fall. Sigma Beta Phi and Alpha Phi Omega were second and third, respectively.

Interest in the Inter-Fraternity leagues was stronger than at any time before at the University, with Sigma Beta Phi, Chi Rho Nu, Phi Kappa Chi, and Alpha Phi Omega dominating the picture, but nonetheless finding stiff opposition from the other six competing fraternities.

The fraternity teams played hard, sometimes too much so, as witnessed by many injuries during the hotly-contested touch football season. Through it all, however, the rivalry was kept well within the bounds of good sportsmanship.

A comparison of the size of the fraternities adds a few points of interest to the judgement of the competition. Sigma Beta Phi ranked first in size on campus, with Alpha Phi Omega a close second. Chi Rho Nu and Phi Kappa Chi, although smaller, nevertheless managed to field strong teams each year.

Most pleasing to the University is the attitude of most of the Greek organizations in playing the game for the sport itself, and enjoying the competition more than the awards won.

Alpha Phi's fight the Chi Rho Nu's for the lead in the Football League. Chi Rho Nu's won this game.

Archery was one of the first individual sports in the fall. Headed by Elizabeth Waidelich, the season continued from September to November. Even though cold weather came while the girls were shooting their arrows, they wore heavy clothing and enjoyed the sport just as much as in the warmer weather. Many girls were almost standing in the snow to participate in this pastime. Seventeen girls came out for archery and out of this number seven received credit toward WAA awards. These seven girls were: Wilma Diegleman, Mary Mowry, Elizabeth Waidelich, Dorothy Hale, Helen Saunders, Pat Stacey and Majorie Leitner. Archery is a sport that both young and old can and do enjoy all year long.

The Women's Association, whose membership is composed of women who have participated consistently in at least one major sport, directs the intramural activities of the Physical Education Department.

Miss Lamora Mueller is the capable head of the department. Under her guiding hand the Association this year completed one of its most successful years.

Lamora Mueller

Sharing the duties with Miss Mueller is Miss Florence Bernholdt who directs hockey, basketball, archery and modern dance.

Mrs. Curtis Davis (Phyl) handles softball, volleyball, bowling, and tennis.

The members of the W.A.A. are deeply grateful to these women who give up so much of their time and energy to give the University a women's athletic program which is comparable to that in any college.

W. A. A. BASKETBALL

To start the second semester off with some strenuous exercise came the basketball season, headed by Jeanette McGuire. This sport began in January and continued until April. Many people participated and we finally had enough for 7 sorority, 1 independent and 1 freshman teams. The tournament was an exciting one with many very close games. The Pi Phi's led the tournament; Tri-Delts were second and Alpha Chi's were third. Among the high scorers were: Bonnie Kitzman, Pat Compton, Jean Decker, Liz Waidelich, and Alice Haag.

HOCKEY

With the beginning of school also comes the start of the Women's Athletic Association. This sports year began in September with the first major fall sport—Hockey. Headed by Jane Foulk, everyone enjoyed a small but successful season. Many girls participated, but only twenty-two girls finally received actual credit. Because of the small number of girls, there was not enough competition to award the Annual Marilyn Reihl Hockey Trophy to the outstanding hockey player of the year. No sorority or independent teams were formed; however, towards the close of the season, the twenty-two girls receiving credit were divided into the Red and Blue Teams. On a very cold day, with the first-aid kit handy, they played a very exciting championship game. After much running and puffing the game finally ended in favor of the Red Team, the score being 1-0. At the end of the season the Annual Hockey Spread was held in the Rocket Room of the Student Union. Ada Albright, president of the organization presided. Guests of honor were the three advisors, Miss Lamora Mueller, Miss Florence Bernholdt and Mrs. C. Davis. At this time the W.A.A Awards were presented, bringing to a close the very first sports season of the 1947 year.

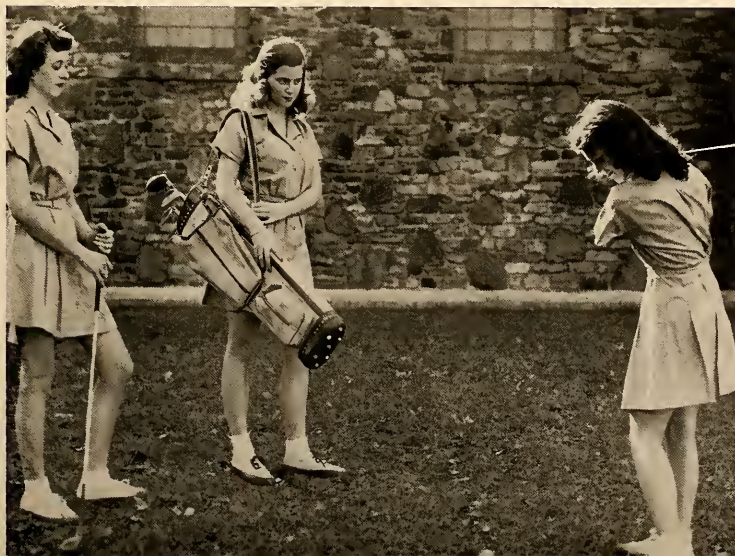

VOLLEYBALL

The second major fall sport of the W.A.A is Volleyball. Headed by Nancy Lee Butler the short season only lasted from November to January. A total of seven games was needed to receive credit and 54 women were able to accomplish this. This indoor game brought 164 people out to participate: 17 freshmen, 64 sophomores, 60 juniors, and 23 seniors. The freshmen women organized a team led by Shirley Spurgeon, and the independent upper-classmen also formed a team with Daisy Crawford as their captain. Sorority and independent women competed in the tournament for the Volleyball Trophy, awarded annually at the Spring Banquet. The results of the tournament are as follows: Pi Beta Phi was first, winning all their games; Delta Delta Delta, second, losing only one game; and Independents, third.

The highest three teams in total number of points were: Pi Phi, 325; Tri-Delt, a close second, 322; and Alpha Chi, third, with 300. Leading the individual scorers was Virginia Cramer with a total of 81 points; second was Daisy Crawford with 67 points; and third, Florence Beran with 58 points.

The climax to this season was the ending of the semester and examinations.

THIS IS THE NEW LOOK

In early civilization, people peered curiously at their reflections in still pools of water. Nowadays, people rely on their mirrors to determine what other folks will see.

Because a mirror is so critical, it is essential that it be made of polished plate glass. Only mirrors made of polished plate glass give true and undistorted reflections.

Libbey-Owens-Ford for years has made this kind of glass—ground and polished on both sides—and many of America's finest mirrors are made of it. When you buy a mirror, be sure that it bears the familiar red, white and blue L·O·F mirror label—your assurance of fine quality.
